

Woes of

INDAY, SEPTEMBEJ, 1979 • ELUL 10, 5789 •

SHAWWAL 11, 1399 . VOL. XLLX, To. 14709

Carter: Arab leaders in private eject ¿Palestinian state

ferusalem Post Corresident ASHINGTON. - U.S. esident immy Carter, in an interw with Alorida newspaper editor:laimed that he has never met an A leader who told him privatelihat he wanted an independent Estinian state. A specific distingn was made between private statents to Carter and public calls isuch a state by Arab leaders in text of the interview, released by White House on Friday.

Carter, discussing PLCemands for an independent Palestin state, said that he had met with leaders Jordan, Syria, Saudi Avia, and gypt since he took office anuary

"I have never met an A leader hat in private professed saire for an independent Palestini state."

In another interview, reing to a recent wave of reports ine U.S. news media, Carter ded that Israel is engaged in illegationage activities within the U.S.

Speaking to reporters Georgia. the president was asked ether he was bothered by Israeli illigence operations in the U.S.

"Well, I think there's ning abormal about that," he reed. "All

Sountries have some form of intelligence operations in other countries. And it consists of collections of data, interviews with private citizens, perusal of news media and also some secret devices. But there are boundaries of legitimacy and I think the Israelis honour those boundaries, just as we do.". Israeli officials and American Jewish leaders have been angered by the allegations of improper Israeli intelligence operations in the U.S. which came in the wake of UN Ambassador Andrew Young's secret meeting with a PLO official. There were reports that Israel had spied on that meeting and later leaked word of it to the press. Israel has denied those reports.

Carter expressed doubt on Friday that Israel had ever bugged Young's apartment.

There is no way for me to certify to that kind of thing," Carter said, "but in our key spots — like the Oval Office and the UN ambassador's residence — there is a routine sweep of the premises designed to detect any sort of surreptitious listening devices and my guess is that if any nation should try to bug the telephone or the premises of the UN ambassador, it would be detected quite early. There have been no

Kreisky: Palestine state not only option

Chancellor Bruno Kreisky said in an interview published here that Palestinian right of selfdetermination does not necessarily entail the establishment of an in-dependent Palestinian state.

"What we should struggle to achieve is the right of self-determination for the Palestinian people, after which they must be completely free to decide their own destiny." Kreisky said in an interview with Kuwait's "Al-Qabas" dai-

(Continued on page 2, col. 2)

'Whether they set up their own independent state, join any other Arab state, or set up a confederation with Israel will be negotiable if their right to self-determination is recognized, he added.

Kreisky predicted a solution to the Palestinian question "would be possible within three or four years if a new war will not erupt."

Sheikh Ezzein osseini (right) and Kurdish Democratic Party leader Abdor Rahman Quassemoutit i their hideout in Banch, Iran, near the Iraqi border, and plan strategy for the impedig showdown between Iran army troops and Kurdish rebels.

cookies, soa, et.

Jerusalem Post Porter Price rises of between-20 percent 1 & wide range of commer pods unt into effect toda in the irst lajor price rise follong the nid-lugust across-the-boarincress in '. prices of staple on wich Jovernment subsidies tre cut The prices of biscuits cookleand of her baked goods risely 5-20er and Processed chicke and twey coducts go up by 1 per cut. Jetergents and other houseold leaning products rise y 10-12 er ent. as do soaps, cometics nd anned fruits and vegethles.

All the increases wer approach by the Ministry of Inditry. Trie and Tourism.

Ne'eman lauiche new political parv

TEL AVIV 9Itim). -Profeer Yuval Ne'eman has and unced e establishment of a net politic movement, "Hateria," he Ziont revival movement. Spaking n Israel Television on Fride nighte expressed the belief that the pay would win 20 seats in the next eitions, play a decisive rie in d possibly even form, the next gove-Ne'eman said that the part)

Dunders include representatives il the groups that had blonged he Land of Israel Loyalsts mo-

TO DUR READERS.

As a result of the continuing i crease in production costs, fro today, the price of Th Jerusalem Post on weokday will be IL10. The price of th enlarged Friday edition with the weekend magazine will remai

You can save money by takin out a regular subscription t The Post. We will deliver th paper direct to your home ever day at no extra cost.

Subscription rates including VAT are. THREE MONTHS SIX MONTHS ONE YEAR

If you subscribe for one year 'u have a chance of winning a EE weekend for two at one Israel's leading five stat vis. See Page 9 for our disadvert

11831

IL1628

1L3000

Prices up tday on | Iran army, Kurdish rebels prepare for showdown

TEHERAN (AP) .- Kurdish rebel leaders alerted their forces yesterday to prepare for the "battle of their destiny" while the government issued "a final warning" to the in-surgents in the Kurdish stronghold of Mahabad in Western Iran.

The statements indicated a major showdown may be brewing in the conflict, which has flared off-and-on since shortly after the revolution which ousted the monarch in February.

Scattered clashes were reported in and near Kurdestan province where a total of 14 persons from both sides have been killed and eight wounded in the last 72 hours, according to government media reports. There were no reports of fighting elsewhere in the country, however, and most of the Western region was described as calm. Iran's Interior Minister Hashem Sabaghian, said on state radio last night that the army was six kilometres outside Mahabad and "they are going to enter the city according to their programme of ac-

Kurdish leaders declared a (Continued on page 2, col. 1)

Begin to U.S. for Rothberg award

By WOLF BLITZER Jerusalem Post Correspondent WASHINGTON. — Prime Minister

Menahem Begin has scheduled a visit to Washington on November 18 to address an Israel Bonds dinner honouring Sam Rothberg, general chairman of the worldwide Israel Bonds organization. A bonds spokesman announced that Rothberg will receive the first annual Golda Meir leadership award, authorized by the family of the late prime minister. It will be presented annually "to a national Jewish leader who has distinguished himself in promoting Israel's economic and social progress.

In recent days, there have been news reports that Begin was planning a fall visit to the U.S., although the bonds announcement on Friday was the first official confirmation. The prime minister will probably be invited to meet with President Jimmy Carter at that time. Robert H. Smith, a Washington, D.C., community leader and real estate developer, is serving as chair-man of the Rothberg dinner. A principal founder of the Israel Bonds organization. Rothberg has been a key figure in the growth of the programme which has raised more than $4.5b. for Israel's economic development since 1951.

ister Ezer Weizman Assembly later this month.

largely technical and boring.

that he wants to get involved only on the big decisions involving broad strategy. Like Sadat, the U.S. negotiator seems to have little from Secretary of State Cyrus Vance and National Security Adviser Zbigniew Brzezinski, who both do not want to see Strauss take over the entire Middle East portfolio.

Also upsetting to Strauss, according to well-placed sources, are indications that President Carter wants Strauss to take a lower public profile and to stop making so many public statements. Because Strauss allowed his personal reservations about the wisdom of the ill-fated U.S. resolution to become publicized dur-ing his last visit to the Middle East, a growing impression of disarray in the administration's Middle East policy has been created - and the president is unhappy about that.

E. J'lem not to be issue at Begin-Sadat summit meet

By ASHER WALLFISH Post Diplomatic Reporter

The status of East Jerusalem will note be an issue for negotiation during the talks this week in Halfa between Prime Minister Menahem Begin and Egyptian President Anwar Sadat, Jerusalem officials said last night.

The officials were commenting on a remark made by Sadat to newsmen, after meeting with West German Foreign Minister Genscher. that he planned to discuss the role in the autonomy arrangements of the Arab part of Jerusalem. The of-ficials said: "There is no agenda for the Haifa talks, and both leaders are free to air whatever topics they desire. But as far as negotiations are concerned. Jerusalem is one and indivisible, and so there's really nothing to talk about."

The officials added that Israel had made this point to U.S. President Jimmy Carter and Sadat at Camp David, and reiterated its position several times subsequently.

The officials said they did not anticipate any formal reaction here to the statement made by Sadat.

The two leaders will have two tetea-tete sessions in Haifa — one on Tuesday from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m., and one on Wednesday from 11 a.m. to 1

Today, a Hercules is due to arrive from Cairo with 37 Egyptian officials in charge of ceremonial, administrative, security, organizational and political affairs. Three planes are flying in tomorrow; two will carry 55 more Egyptian officials and the third 60

At today's cabinet session. Begin is due to survey the issues which he expects will come up in Haifa. Following a report from Energy Minister Moda'i on his abortive trip to Abu Rodels last week, Begin will tell the cabinet how he intends to present Israel's request for two million tons of Sinai oil annually at longterm contract prices.

Strauss may cancel visit to Mideast

By WOLF BLITZER

Jerusalem Pest.Correspondent WASHINGTON, - Special U.S. envoy Robert Strauss is having some second thoughts about visiting Israel and Egypt later this month, The Jerusalem Post has learned.

Reliable U.S. and Israeli sources sald festerday that Strauss will make a final decision on Tuesday remarding the trip, previously siteduled to follow this week's Haifa summit between Prime Minister Menahem Begin and President Anwar Sadat.

According to the sources, Strauss appears reluctant to return to the Middle East at this point, having just returned from a visit there where he met with Sadat and Begin. In addition, Foreign Minister Moshe Dayan, well as several senior Egyptian officials are scheduled to attend the opening session of the UN General

At this point, the sources said. Strauss appears simply uncertain about the necessity of another journey to the Middle East. He has also indicated to close associates that he is tired from all his recent

So far. Strauss has delegated nearly all of the day-to-day responsibilities of the autonomy negotiations to his deputy. James Leonard. Strauss did participate in one round of talks in July at Alexandris. But generally, he has not shown much interest in the slow pace of those talks, which he perceives as patience for details.

Strauss has confided to friends

But Strauss has run into opposition

cludes military help. "The answer is yes - three yesses," Sadat said, beaming over what appeared to be the first signal of the collapse of the Arab boycott of his country. Sadat, turning to the Middle East peace talks, said he believed that by the end of this year "We shall put the final touches to a comprehensive

Sadat promises Rabat

Sees Jerusalem 'solution' by year's end

anti-Polisario arms

settlement. "I can say that I am optimistic in forecasting that by the end of the year we shall be reaching an agreement not only on autonomy but also on the eve of his Tuesday trip to Haifa for a summit with Premier on Jerusalem," Sadat sald. Menahem Begin - the leader Sadat "After what has taken place referred to yesterday as "my friend between me and Menahem as Menahem with whom I am confident friends, I can say, that I shall insist we shall accomplish a comprehenthat by the end of the year we shall sive peace settlement" in the Middle put the final touches to a comprehensive settlement." Sadat again called his other Arab critics "dwarfs" who did not have courage enough to sit and negotiate with Israel as he has done.

Sadat said "I tell them at this moment that if the PLO announced a provisional government in exile we shall recognize it immediately."

Hassan, the Egyptian leader said: "That is a very good question and the answer is yes." When asked whether he would give the Moroccan Sadat was speaking to newsmen in Alexandria at a joint press conference with visiting West German monarch the aid he requested, Sadat Foreign Minister Hand Dietrich said 'yes.' He gave a similar reply to Genscher who over the weekend said that his government supports a Mida question on whether the aid indle East settlement that would recognize the right of the Palestinian people to a homeland. Genscher told reporters after a 90minute session with Prime Minister Mustapha Khalil that both governments were interested in a just, comprehensive and lasting Middle East solution.

He said: "This requires the right of existence of all countries in the region to be recognized and it also means the right of the Palestinian people to self-determination must be accepted by all and must be implemented. The implementation must include a homeland for the Palestinian people." He did not elaborate. Khalil himself suggested that the PLO should recognize Israel in ex-change for Israeli recognition of the right of the Palestinian people to self-determination.

In an interview with Cairo Radio, the prime minister also urged the PLO to halt terrorist operations inside Israel in return for an end to Israeli military attacks against Southern Lebanon.

Khalil said PLO operations inside Israel were "completely useless for the Palestinian cause. On the con-irary, they harm the PLO."

Rumania could be

stiffening attitude

BELGRADE (AP) - The energy problems which led Rumania to offend its communist neighbours over petrol this summer may now be

The only Soviet bloc country maintaining diplomatic ties with Israel.

Rumania now says it wants "unconditional" Israeli withdrawai from

The new phrase came after a surprise visit to Bucharest last weekend

by Tasser Arafat. leader of the Palestine Liberation Organization, and appeared to be a sharpening of precious Rumanian calls for

It was the month's second meeting between Arafat and Rumanian

President Ceausescu, who had met the PLO leader earlier in August in

No Rumaman official has linked his country's Middle East politics to lts energy problems. But Rumania is Arab land captured in the 1967 war.

sharpening its demands on Israel.

toward Israel

Mystery veils surprise Rumanian-Begin meet

By ASHER WALLETSH Post Diplomatic Reporter

and Agencies

Egyptian President Anwar Sadat

yesterday announced that he had received a request for military aid

from Morocco's King Hassan to counter the latter's struggle with the Algerian-backed leftist dissidents in the Western Sahara. Sadat said that

Sadat's startling announcement

indicated that he might have broken

his ring of isolation in the Arab world

King Hassan of Morocco was one of 17 Arab leaders who broke diplomatic relations with Egypt last

March in protest against the conclusion of its peace treaty with Israel.

Asked whether he had actually received a request for help from

he has acceded to the request.

Mystery last night still cloaked the surprise visit to Jerusalem on Friday of a special envoy from the Rumanian government, who held a 90-minute tête-a-tête with Prime Minister Menahem Begin.

Officials in Jerusalem are saying nothing of substance about the visit of Vasile Pungun, who has visited Jerusalem and other Middle Eastern capitals several times to bring messages from Rumanian President Nicolae Ceausescu.

Begin's spokesman Dan Pattir said the talk "covered topics within the sphere of Israel-Rumania relations, and international issues including the Middle East, which are of interest to both countries."

Pattir reacted coolly to a report in the Kuwaiti newspaper "Al Qabas" yesterday that Ceausescu sent Pungun to try to arrange a top level meeting betweeen Begin and Syrian President Hafez Assad. The paper said the Rumanian leader was trying to fix up a secret meeting between the Israeli and Syrian leaders at the request of U.S. President Jimmy

PLAINS, Georgia. - U.S. President

Jimmy Carter on Friday nominated Donald F. McHenry to replace An-drew Young as the U.S. ambassador

o the UN where McHenry has been

Speaking at a press conference,

McHenry said he believed it necessary "to find some kind of a way of including Palestinians in the search for peace in the Middle

His nomination, announced here

while Carter is on vacation, is considered likely to help overcome the president's political problems with black leaders upset over Young's departure. McHenry, like Young, is black; aged 42, he joined the State

McHenry told the press that he hoped to "build upon the work" of

But he added that he would carry out his new tasks in his own way, and remarked, "I don't feel that I have

He said he had always had "a verv warm and close working relationship" with Secretary of

But when asked if he favoured setting his own judgment against the State Department, he replied, "We also have to follow the dictates of our own conscience in pursuing policy objectives, and I believe every diplomat faces the point where he has to decide how a particular policy goal should be accomplished, and Young resigned last month under fire for talking to a Palestine Liberation Organization official contrary to State Department regulations and then misinforming Vance about the McHenry declined to say whether he agreed with Young that the U.S.

policy of not talking to the PLO was "ridiculous." But, speaking in general terms, he said, "I would nature of the conversation.

also to face the music if he must."

Young's deputy.

Department in 1963.

any shoes to fill."

State Cyrus R. Vance.

Begin is believed to have told Pungun that Israel was concerned about the statements recently issued by Ceausescu after he received PLO leader Yasser Arafat in Bucharest and called on Assad in Damascus.

However, Jerusalem officials have so far stoutly denied that a planned visit to Bucharest by Tel Aviv municipal heads was called off because Israel wanted to signal annoyance to Bucharest in more tangi-

Pungun is believed to have briefed Begin on the meetings with Assad and Arafat in order to convey some assurance that Ceausescu still wished to keep Begin fully informed about all the moves he was making in Middle East affairs.

Pungun is a former chief counsellor to the Rumanian president, who met Egyptian President Anwar Sadat as well as Begin, before Sadat launched his peace initiative, and was credited by both Begin and Sadat with a major role in that initative. Radio Bucharest said last night that the Rumanian envoy came to

Jerusalem at Prime Minister

Donald F. McHenry

continue to work for would be the opening of channels of com-

Asked if he thought his appointment would decrease tensions between American blacks and Jews.

McHenry said, "I would hope the ap-

McHenry said he recently had "a very useful conversation" with Carter about the problems facing the U.S. in the UN and "the opportunities before us." He said the main problems included the Middle East, southern Africa and the North-South

McHenry was in the spotlight last weekend as the chief U.S. negotiator

at the Kennedy Airport confrontation with the Soviet Union over the departure of Russian ballerina Lud-

In contrast with his predecessor, whose off-the-cuff remarks often stirred controversy. McHenry is known for his precise language and ability to fend off delicate questions economic dialogue.

milia Vlasova.

pointment is not aimed at that."

Begin's behest.

McHenry to succeed Young

now increasingly an oil importer.

Gov't lashes out at Young accusation

Post Diplomatic Reporter and Agencies

The Foreign Ministry reacted sharply last night to a statement made to the Paris newspaper "Le Nouvel Observateur" by outgoing American UN Ambassador Andrew Young that Foreign Minister Moshe Dayan might have personally leaked the news about Young's meeting with a PLO representative to 'Newsweek' magazine.

Spokesman Michael Shiloh said 'the allegation is totally unfounded." He said the first time that the Foreign Ministry heard about Young's meeting with PLO observer at the UN Zehdi Terzi was when Ephraim Evron, the Israeli ambassador in Washington, spoke to a U.S. State Department official on August 12, Evron was told that the Newsweek" of the following day would be carrying the story accut. the Young-Terzi conversation.

Young told "Le Nouvel Observateur": "From what we have heard it was Dayan who passed on the information (about the meeting) to "Newsweek"

Young, in his first interview with a European publication since his resignation as ambassador, had hard words to say about Israel; "The Israelis are no less terrorístic than the PLO at this moment. I believe that the splinter and phosphorus bombs they drop on Lebanon are just as immoral and deadly as anything the Palestinians might have done in "Israel was created with our help, as an answer to the Holocaust. But since 1967 Israel has gradually become the oppressor — it is the evolution which is costing it its credibility, and might in future com-promise its military strength. The israelis enjoyed American military help because the American people believe they are right to fight for their survival. But by becoming an expansionist power, by multiplying the settlements (in the territories) and shelling I ebanon they are in the . process of losing their moral advantage." Young said in the interview. (see Young, Waldbelm, page 2)

THIS IS THE SIGN

cordially. (AP, JTA) hope that one of the things we would Poland, Germany reflect on WW2's start—40 years later

WARSAW. — Sirens sounded, traffic halted and factory work stopped for a minute at noon yesterday all over Poland to mark the 40th anniversary of the outbreak of World War II, started by Hitler's attack on Poland. Specches and ceremonies marked the date throughout Eastern Europe. and in West Germany, the occasion brought introspective public discussion and the inauguration of a yearlong touring exhibition of drawings by prisoners at Auschwitz. In Bonn, end to the arms race. The Polish commemoration was led by Communist leader Edward Gierek, who unvelled a monument to the defenders of the Polish post office in the former free city of Danzig - now the Polish port of Gdansk which the Germans stormed with flame-throwers.

12.000 leftists demonstrated for an

Later, Gierek laid flowers at a memorial to the defenders of Westerplatte, a small finger of land fust outside Gdansk, where the Nazi invasion of Poland began, Last night he was due to address a peace rally in the city.

West German Chancellor Helmut Schmidt, speaking on Thursday in the Reichstag building where Adolf

Hitler proclaimed World War II, said that for the German people "the post-Nazi era, the post-war era will never be at an end.' Appearing on nationwide televi-sion, Schmidt said the Germans bear an obligation to place the interests of their neighbours "as high as our own" and work to preserve peace. The chancellor, who was a young. non-commissioned officer when the war broke out, added that the memory of Auschwitz - the most notorious of the Nazi extermination camps - "will in Europe, and in Israel and in America and in many parts of the world remain alive for many generations, and it must remain so in our own country." Bavarian Premier Franz Josef Strauss. Schmidt's opposition candidate for chancellor, called on Friday for renewed efforts to make sure war never again breaks out on Ger-He called World War II "the unavoidable result of a policy of and crimes" of the past and pursue democratic principles. Addressing the nation on yesterday's anniversary, West German madness," and said the German peo-

plc must recognize the "mistakes

President Karl Carstens said that Germans committed dreadful acts in World War II but nevertheless the soldiers who fought for their country should be honoured. Carstens, who was a lieutenant in charge of a Berlin antiaircraft battery for most of the war, made no attempt to play down German guilt. But he said young Germans cannot realize the conflict his generation went through in fighting for an uniust cause.

"Some, particularly in the young generation, are not willing to grant honourable motives and actions to those who fought and suffered at the front and died by the millions," he "Most of them believed they were fighting for their homeland, and knew or had a foreboding that at the same time they were keeping alive an unjust system whose scorn for human beings had nothing in common with the Germany they were fighting for," the president explained.

The Auschwitz exhibit, which opened on Thursday, includes 150 drawings selected from the Auschwitz memorial archives.

There are portraits of gaunt-faced prisoners just before they were gassed, secretly sketched in pencil or ink: scenes of torture that were smuggled out of the Nazi extermination camp in occupied Poland where four million persons died, and photographs of Jews being selected for the gas chambers at the railhead under the sign "Arbeit Macht Frei" work makes you free.

"Some museum directors opposed showing these pictures so soon after the emotion stirred up by the 'Holocaust' television series,' said Abraham David Christian, a German-Jewish sculptor who helped select the works. "But we believe these pictures could reach a whole new group of Germans who may have avoided facing up to the Nazi atrocities."

In a statement marking the anniversary. Honecker sald on Friday that East Germany will maintain strong military forces as long as "the imperialist threat" remains, but will work to ensure that war 'never again spreads from German Honceker, who spent the war in a Nazi prison because of his Communist Party membership, praised the Soviet Union for its liberation of Germany from tascism. Citing the large number of communists and socialists rounded up by the Nazis. the East German leadership maintains the war was waged by the Nazis against the wishes of the German working class.

In the Sovict Union. Tass yesterday criticized western news media for publishing "tendentious and sometimes grossly distorted" articles keyed to the 40th anniversary of the outbreak of World War II.

News analyst Igor Orlov pointed specifically to an article by Albert Speer, Nazi Germany's minister of arms production, which appeared on Friday in "The New York Times."

According to Orlov, the Speer article "only rehashes the standard arguments of the beaten Hitler generals" by contending that Hitler failed to attain his war goals simply because he resorted to "wrong tac-

Noting that Speer was a war criminal convicted during the Nuremberg trials, Orlov asked: Why, for what purpose (has) that American newspaper permitted the former Hitler man to speak from its

ANGLO-SAXON

BRANCHES

THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY

The Weather at Main swissair Destinations

	MIN.		MAX.
	°C	œ	•0	·F
AMSTERDAM	20	68	25	77	Sanny
BR('88EL5	14	57	25	77	Sunny
BUENOS AIRES	18	50	14	528	Rainy
CHICAGO	19	67	29	84	Cloudy
COPENHAGEN	13	65	22	72	Cloudy
FRANKFURT	11	~	26	79	Gest
GENEVA	11	- E	25	77	Sunay
HELSINKL	*	44	18		Sunny
HONG KONG	23	72	34	22	Clear
JOHANNESBURG	7	44	30	88
LISBON	18	59	26	79	Cleady
LONDON	16	41	23	73	Somey
MADRID	28	62	22	13	Samy
MONTREAL	21		-		Clear
NEW YORK	24	70 75	27	21	Sunny
08L0	29 6	70 48	31 12	58 84	Clear
PARIS	17	42	18 25	75	Cloudy
RIO DE JANEIRO	15	65	25 21	. TO	Sunny
SAO PAULO	14	67	22	83	Cloudy
STOCKHOLM	10	50	20 17	63	Cloudy
TOKYO	22	72	32	50	Cloudy
TORONTO	16	61	22	72	Sunny
VANCOUVER	13	55	21	70	Clear
VIENNA	10	50	22	72	Sunny
ZURICH	11	52	25	77	Strany
	-•
* For the latest we	ather	COE	ditte	m,	contact
Swisselr				-

Offices in Israel Tel Aviv, 53 Ben Yehuda, St. (03) 243355. Jerusalem, 30 Jaffa St. (02) 228868 / 233192. Haifa, 2 Sea Road, (04)84655

THE WEATHER

	terday's midity	Yesterday's Min-Max	Today's, Max_
Jerusalem	33 _	15—31	29
Golan	58	13—33	30
Nahariya	53	18—30	· 29
Safad	46	14-31	28
Haifa Port	64	23-27	27
Tiberias	15	20-32	31
Nacareth	46	16-32	30
Afula	49	1633	31
Samoria	50	16-29	27
Tel Aviv	57	2129	28
B-G Airport		18-31	30
Jericho	25	2336	34
Gaza	52	21—28	28
Becrsheba	38	17-82	.30
Eilat	27	25—37	36
Tiran Strait		27—38	37
		•	· i

ARRIVALS

Philip Klutznick, president of the World Jewish Coongress, to attend deliberations of the WJC's economic and social com-

Hashomer Hatzair plans new settlements

At a festive ceremony held on the shores of Lake Kinneret on Friday night, the Hashomer Hatzair movement announced plans to set up 10 new Nahal settlements. The locations of the new settlements were not disclosed.

The ceremony was attended by hundreds of members of the Nahal groups, the commander of the Nahal, Aluf-Mishne Gabi Magol, and the head of the Youth and Nahal division at the Defence Ministry. Kibbutz Artzi secretaries Aliza Amir and Uri Pinkerfeld stressed the vital role played by the Nahal in realizing Zionist settlement policy. They expressed the hope that this framework would receive maximum state support in the future.

Youth movement members vesterday sailed across the Kinneret in raits which they had built.

Israel ready to give St. Katarina to Egypt earlier

Jerusalem Post Reporter Israel is prepared in principle to return the Santa Katerina monastery and Mount Sinai area to Egypt before the November 25 date stipulated in the Camp David peace accords.

This gesture will be offered to President Anwar Sadat by Prime Minister Menahem Begin in return for stepped-up normalization, when the Egyptian leader visits Israel next

Israel Radio reported last week that the monks at the monastery have said that they would prefer the original date to stand and opposed an earlier return. They made this clear to Tat-Aluf Dov Sion, head of the israel delegation to the Joint Military Commission, when he visited the area yesterday.

IRAN ARMY

general mobilization of their forces after a Kurdish goodwill delegation in Teheran for the past week ended negotiations with the government and said they were going home without an agreement.

Meanwhile. Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini, who has declared himself supreme commander of the armed forces, has called on the government to be more revolutionary and for the armed forces to stop procrastinating and coordinate their actions to crush the Islamic Republic's enemies in Kurdistan.

The status of Iranian Prime Minister Mehdi Bazargan was uncertain yesterday after he appealed to the people in a midnight television address on Friday to ask Khomeini to come to Teheran and assume the reins of government. State radio yesterday repeatedly announced that Bazargan's speech would be broadcast but then said that for technical reasons it could not be air-

Nearly all schools to open for studies today

By ALAN ELSNER and BENNY MOBBIS Jerusalem Post Reporters

HOME NEWS

Nearly all of the country's approximately 1.1 million schoolchildren start school and kindergarten this morning. Those who will stay home will be forced to do so because of strikes in their schools, mainly because of inadequate conditions in the classrooms. Prime Minister Begin will visit several schools this morning to mark the beginning of the school year. Most of the strikes in the few schools that will stay shut were called by parents committee. Among these are the Herzl primary school in Herzliya, where parents say the temporary buildings used by most of their children are a fire hazard: the Usha religious school in Ramat Gan; the elementary school at Omer, near Beersheba, and the Geulim school in Six schools in Or Yehuda will be closed by their teachers because they (the local council) failed to carry out vital repair work during the summer vacation. Among the dangers said to threaten the Or Yehuda schools were buildings in danger of collapse, sewage spilling into school grounds, electricity ter-minals open, and broken down fences around some of the schools, freely in the playgrounds. In Beersheba, a joint meeting of all the parents committees of the allowing horses and dogs to roam town's 14 religious schools went on late into the night on the question of whether to strike the schools. The parents complained that the schools were grossly overcrowded and that some children had to learn in primitive wooden huts. Emmanuel Kopelowitz, head of the ministry's Arab education division, said yesterday that as far as he could know, the new school year would open smoothly, despite a widespread lack of classrooms in many Arab schools. He blamed the shortage on the Knesset's enactment of compulsory schooling for tenthgraders, "without first preparing the ecessary infrastructure.

Schools and kindergartens will have a normal day today, running at least until noon, a ministry spokesman said yesterday, in response to unfounded rumours that some schools would be open only until 10 a.m.

Tel Aviv opens hot line for school questions

TEL AVIV. — An open phone line for parents or teachers with questions about any aspect of today's school opening will be maintained by Tel Aviv-Jaffa's municipal Education Department, the city announced. Between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.

questions about pre-school education should be directed to phone number 225274, elementary school 243697, and secondary school 228037.

IDF spokesman's statement vague on Israel involvement

Post Military Correspondent "The IDF has, does and will continue to support the Christian militias when the need arises," the army spokesman said in a statement late Friday night. He was respon-ding to charges on Israel Television's Friday weekly news magazine that he (the spokesman) had evaded questions from foreign correspondents on the presence of Israel forces in Southern Lebanon, and that his evasive answers had lost him much of his credibility.

The spokesman's announcement again evades the question whether or not Israel artillery and armour are deployed in Southern Lebanon. For in the statement which the spokesman said was intended to clarify the charges against him, he in fact again goes no further than admitting that Israel offers military aid, without defining the form the aid takes or saying whether or not Israeli forces are in Lebanon.

The army spokesman's office has come under heavy attack recently for its inability to supply credible information on the situation in Southern Lebanon. In response to these charges, the army last week opened up the border, allowing local and foreign newsmen to see for themselves what the situation is and to speak to the people of the South. The office also provided in-telligence briefings on Israel's deep strike policy against the terrorists, but these had little effect because they were not linked to events at the time of Israel's attacks in Lebanon but came later, when the matter was no longer an issue:

Young, Waldheim hit Israeli policy

General Kurt Waldheim and Security Council president Andrew Young the U.S. concluded the council's Southern Lebanon debate Thursday night by calling for the present cease-fire there to be made perma-

Waldheim also said he was actively considering further ways of ensuring implementation of Security Council resolutions calling for the restoration of the Beirut government's authority over the southern part of the country. He considering sending former British UN ambassador Ivor Richard on a peace-making mission to the area as his special representative. No resolution was introduced during the debate, which began on Wednesday. But Lebanon's request for a strengthened UNIFIL presence was noted. Young concluded the session by saying it was a source of satisfaction that a call for restraint he made the previous Friday had been heeded. He called for the existing cease-fire to be made permanent and for the implementation of council decisions

оп Lebanon 'I can't see much difference between a bomb in a trash can and and a bomb dropped from 10,000 feet

(3,048 metres)." Young remarked to reporters afterwards, apparently comparing acts of the Palestine Liberation Organization with those of Israel. Asked if the PLO was getting Soviet arms, he said he thought those were weapons that had been in the area for some time, and added: "I frankly can't say much about that, because the weapons that we supply are destroying Lebanon."

Earlier, Waldheim said he ap preciated Israel's concerns for the security of its citizens but added, "I emptive strikes on targets in Lebanon is acceptable or indeed is justified by the circumstances now prevailing."

All succeeding speakers spoke against the Israeli strikes except Israeli Ambassador Yehuda Blum, who said he was still waiting for an assurance that Lebanon would no longer be a staging ground for harassment of Israel.

POLLUTION. — Mairaz, the council for the prevention of noise and pollution, has called on the Health Ministry and the Ra'anana local council to put an immediate end to the pollution caused by smoke coming from the Ra'anana garbage

CARTER

Arabians.

(Continued from page I)

detections of any such devices." In the Florida interview, Carter maintained forcefully that "there was no linkage" between increased oil production by Saudi Arabia and the Palestinian problem.

Carter reiterated the U.S. position that the U.S. will not deal with the PLO until it accepts UN Security Council Resolutions 242 and 338, But he sounded defensive about that 1975 commitment to Israel, even though he reaffirmed it following the signing of the Israel-Egypt peace treaty.

"It was not my policy," Carter said, noting that former secretary of state Henry Kissinger first enun-ciated it. But the president added: "I have endorsed the policy and I will carry it out."

Carter said he had asked Arab leaders to persuade the PLO to recognize Israel's right to exist. "In most instances," the president said, those Arab leaders said they thought they could accomplish that.

They have not been able to do so." Carter said that publicly the Arab leaders he had met "espouse an independent Palestinian state, almost all of them, because of what they committed themselves to do at Rabat" in 1974.

But he said that the "private diplomatic tone of the conversations is much more proper than is often alleged by the press and by others. Carter said that supplies of Arab oil were not dependent on U.S. actions regarding the Palestinian question, "It would be a very great surprise to me for Crown Prince Fahd to send ... a message 'if you don't expedite a resolution of the Palestinian question we would cut off your oil." He characterized U.S. relations

ing inter-relationship. They see us as their ultimate, not quite protective, but stabilizing fac-tor," he continued, "and they don't want to sever their relationships with us."

with the Saudis as "a great stabiliz-

They have an abhorrence of the Soviet Union because it's atheistic and because it's communist and because they encourage sometimes radicalism and turmoil and violence, and they know that we are a religious nation and they know we are a democratic nation, we know our attitude toward them is benevolent and they know our basic policy is one of espousing stability, and all those factors, and others that I can name, are attractive to the Saudi

Asked whether there was a relationship between increased oil production and progress on Middle East negotiations, Carter replied: "I can tell you that there was no linkage. I can tell you that there was no linkage ever mentioned with the Saudi diplomats in Washington or with our ambassador in Saudi

Carter said the Saudis would prefer a reduction in their oil exports. "They would rather keep the oil in the ground," he said. "They are producing the extra oil in effect as a favour to the rest of the world, to provide world stability, which helps

Asked whether the U.S. would go to war if the Arabs cut off oil supplies, the president at first noted that that question was "hypothetical" but then went on to say: "I would take whatever action is necessary to defend the security of this country, but I would have to make a judgement if an interruption of the oil supplies from some of the Middle East countries was endangering the security of my coun-

"We have analysed all options. If you study the straight military aspects of it, which has been done by my predecessors, and which I have reviewed, it is a very difficult military question."
"I would do everything I could to avoid a war." he continued, "but at the same time my Number One responsibility is to protect the security of our nation." When a questioner spoke of possible Arab oil "blackmail," the president said: "Since I have been in office there has never been any allegation made to me or any insinuation made to me by an Arab or other foreign leader that if you don't do so and so, we will cut off your supply of

"I_wouldn't let you blackmail me and I would not let an Arab country blackmail our nation. We don't have to take that." he said.

Canada's new ambassador to Israel, Joseph Stanford (right), presents his credentials to President Yitzhak Navon at the president's residence last week. At Navon's right are the directorgeneral of his bureau, Yltzhak Agassi, and Gad Ranon of the Foreign Ministry.

Employers Loans to be paid back before their due dates

By SHLOMO MAOZ Post Economic Reporter

The Tressury plans to allow employers in industry and agriculture to redeem the Compulsory Employment Loans taken from them by the government before their due dates of redemption, State Revenue Administration chief Uriel Linn told The Jerusalem Post last night.

The Treasury will decide this evening whether to allow employers in transport and the building trade to redeem their Compulsory Employers Loans before their due

Last week the Treasury decided that after October 1 employers in in-dustry and agriculture will no longer have to give the government the loan which amounts to 4.75 per cent of all the salaries they pay out after fringe benefits have been deducted. This step was taken to help employers in agriculture and industry who are facing liquidity problems because of the current credit squeeze.

The Treasury is willing to redeem all employers loans taken until the end of this month. But the State Revenue Administration warned that it would not allow a sudden early redemption of all the loans taken in recent years. If there is a rush on government coffers, the administration will be forced to regulate the rate at which the loans are redeem-

Treasury officials calculate that the cancellation of Employers Loans will mean a IL3b, loss in revenue. They hope to fill this gap by increased sale of government-linked bonds through the banks and stock

In another development in the Treasury, it was learned that since Friday interest on delayed payments to the Income Tax was raised from 30 to 48 per cent. This is till below current interest rates on the free market. In the future, the Treasury plans to raise interest on delayed tax payments to the equivalent of the preferred rate taken by commercial banks from their best and most trustworthy clients.

Television stars Farrah Fawcett-Majors, once one of "Charlie's Angels" (left), and David Soul, of "Starsky and Hutch" fame, arrived within hours of each other yesterday for visits here. (Milman)

'Hutch' to crown beauties

By MICHAL YUDELMAN

Jerusalem Post Reporter TEL AVIV. — A blond, tanned and clean-shaven David Soul, former costar of the popular television series "Starsky and Hutch," arrived on Friday for a week's visit in Israel as guest of the entertainment weekly

'Lahiton." Soul is slated to crown the winner of the magazine's 1979 beauty contest, which is scheduled in Tel Aviv's Yad Eliahu sports stadium tomorrow, and the winner of the Miss Peace pageant in Jerusalem's

Binyenei Ha'ooma on Tuesday. Soul, who will tour Israel, said on Friday that he had a "deep fondness" for children and was especially looking forward to visiting day care centres.

Soul told reporters that he had just finished playing the lead in a horror film called "Salem's Lot." He is also involved in writing, directing, and singing, recently completing a new song album. "But now I'll try to concentrate on my production company and not spread myself out so thin over so many things," he said. Soul arrived with his eight-year-old son Jean Christian - he has another son aged 15 - and said that although this was his first visit to Israel, he had heard and read much about it due to his religious background. He is a minister's son. Commenting on the arrival of Farrah Fawcett-Majors to the Tel

Aviv Sheraton at the same time, Soul said. "You just can't escape Hollywood."

Asked why the "Starsky and Hutch" series had ended, Soul said that four years were enough.

Peace Now to 'New Outlook' meet

The Peace Now movement yesterday decided to allow six of its representatives to participate in the "New Outlook" symposium on the Palestinians scheduled for Washington at the end of October. The movement said it will par-ticipate if no members of PLO institutions or groups attend and if the conference agenda is known in advance, a spokesman said yesterday.

Jerusalem Post Reporter

A final decision will be reached in coordination with the Peace Now supporters in the U.S., the spokesman added.

Peace Now has called upon all political parties in Israel to support talks with representatives of the Palestinians in an effort to achieve a comprehensive peace in the Middle

On the thirtieth day after the passing of our friend

YOEL FRIEDMAN >1%

we will meet at the graveside to honour his memory, on Tuesday, September 4, 1979, at the Kibbutz Afikim cemetery.

To all who share our mourning, the family extends its

. The Family and Kibbutz Afikim

With deep sorrow, we announce the passing of

Dr. L.I. WEBER

The funeral will leave today, Sunday, September 2, 1979, at 12 noon, from the Sanhedria Funeral Parlour.

> The Bereaved Families Reshef, Weber, Weinsblueth

Jerusalem Post Reporter TEL AVIV. — Magen David Adustations in Beershebs and Holo which are due to close at 7 a.m. t day because of lack of funds, will keep a skeleton emergency service with one ambulance at each station for extreme emergencies. Beersheba and Holon residen should only phone MDA in cases of "absolute distress." Ambulance will transport such cases to hospital if they are available to do so. MDA spokesman Moshe Dayan said yesterday. Otherwise, in cases of ac cident, in Beersheba, the public should contact the Soroka hospital; while in Holon, the public should go. to the Donolo hospital, or Assay Harofeh.

Dayan said that no first aid would be given at either station. The Beershebs blood bank has also been forced to close. All but two of the 20 employees at each branch have been

Unless financial aid is forthcoming. there is also a danger that even the skeleton service will have to be discontinued, Dayan said. Fuel for the ambulances is being bought on credit from garages which may stop selling at any minute.

"We are holding our breath and keeping fingers crossed that no major tragedies occur in Beersheba or Holon," he said. "If two people have heart attacks at the same time, we will only be able to take one of them

Beersheba Hien MD on skeletoi sevice only to horal. I dread to think what could ppen if there is a serious road sident.

Hea Ministry spokesman Dvora

Ganaraid she had "no comment" on theosure of the two stations. Lasveek The Jerusalem Post report that at least seven other MDA tions are on the verge closuspecause of their debts; the are: Taviv, Haifa, where service have in "drastically curtailed" for thest three weeks. Netanya. Rehov Dimona, Tiberias and

Kiryanmona, The eatened closure of the MD. nationblood bank, which supplie Israel ospitals with most of their blood, ems to have been averted for theme being, Dayan reported. MDA I decided that the IL500,000 paid ity hospitals which owed it moneyust be applied to the first prioritif keeping the blood bank

HealtMinister Eliezer Shostak offeredDA IL40m, in immediate aid lasunday, on condition that a ministrnominee supervise spen-ding. 's demand was unacceptable, id the MDA executive resignen protest.

, an unconfirmed report said Shak went back on his de-mand a decided to ball out MDA withour e-conditions. But no money sched the organization up to last ht, making closure of the Beersht and Holon branches in-

Negotiations resuled in bid to settle electric stike

By MICHAL YUDELMAN Jerusalem Post Reporter

Negotiations in attempt to end the nine-day Electric Corporation strike resumed yesterday evening. The corporation's national workers committee and management, Energy Minister Moda'i and representatives of the Histadrut participated in the renewed bargaining.

Histadrut Secretary-General Yeroham Meshel and Moda'i met-with representatives of the Histadrut's trades union section on Friday morning to clarify controversial issues which had been obstructing the negotiations.

Despite the general strike, which began on August 24, the electricity supply has been kept flowing by 700 power station employees, at their jobs under back-to-work orders. After reducing the regular electricity. supply by one-third on Tuesday, ng power failures and heavy industrial damage all over the country, thirlking workers agreed to maintake regular power flow during the gotistions.

The pute is reportedly centred on a direement between workers and magement over the application of general engineers' grades to the rporation engineers, and demanby the rest of the workers for bents equivalent to those of the enginee The inufacturers Association and thCoordinating Bureau of Econon Organizations have supported odal's tough line in the negotians and called for effective action prevent the obstruction of iblic services as a result of indicial disputes. However, Histadrrepresentatives called for the diste to be solved between Electricorporation management and wors, through the mediation of the Hadrut. They intimated that the negations had gone on the rocks dio the interference of out-

U.S.-Israel to cooprate on labour programme

Jerusalem Post Reporter TEL AVIV. The U.S. will send a team of experts to help the government employment service develop new programmes. Several Israeli officials will visit the U.S. to learn how similar programmes fare there. The oject was one of those agreed up between Labour Minister Israel Katz, and the U.S. Secretary of Labour Ray Marshall, during a fourday conference between officials of the two countries.

It was also agreed to establish a permanent research committee to review progress in occupational safety and health, and to exchange technical and scientific information — especially on toxic materials. A seminar will be held in Israel this winter to discuss work-place safety and health.

Sunday, September 2 at 1 p.i

the U.Sand Issel.

A stating domnittee to enhance the comaratic analyses of labour management fations will also be established. Roerts will compare experience antheory in mediation technique, reliator training and employeem wee training in conattempto de clop an economic model f the neasurement of the impact striks on the economy in tract administron. Murshall end a six-day visit to Israel on Frin. Four of those days wert devoted a cabinet-level confernice on meal cooperation in the labour field During his visit. Manhail helextended talks with seveal miniers and with Histadrut Secretary-Geral Meshel. He also visied absortion centres, the Prouctivity istitute, two kibbut-zimand a maay.

Another programme will be a joint

We mount the eath of LISELOTTE (La) LESER

The funeral will leave from sanhtria fundal parlour, today,

The family

To Mrs. Ray Saskolky We share your sorrow outhoassingof your beloved

SISTE

Escerg Goup of Companies

Tel Aviv Uversity Faculty Arts

mourns the deathfile composer BEN OMAND

of Los geles and offers condoless to the family.

The Habrew United and its Ponsion Association

for many years a devoted senior of formation and Public Affairs . and extends sincere condolences the bereaved family. Tel Aviv Labour leaders finds:

PLO not permitted to open Berne office

GENEVA (JTA) Swiss foreign minister Pierce Apper has fold the Swiss Jewish weekly "La Gazette Juive" that on no account will his government allow the PLO to open

Auber said that they had authorized the PLO to open an office in Geneva as it was an office accredited

Jerusalem Post Reporter.

TEL AVIV. - How many people.

human chain to cover inc as proximate 500 kms oeiween Tei Aviv

and Cairo? "About 500 000," figures

Jurgen Richter, a West German a.

tist who proposes such a spectacie to celebrate the first unniversacy of inc

Richter, 37, now on a visit to exhibit his drawings, says a "pence chain" has much more meaning

"After two men figh, they don t

sign a contract. They shake hands.

an act that physically binds them together." explains the Munich resident. "After all these Israelis and

Egyptians, joined by visitors from abroad, hold hands, the spirit of the event will remain with them,

Richter claims that he has secured peace treaty.

than a treaty.

joining hands, would it take to form a

to the UN and not to Switzerland.

an office in Berne

Israel losing Germans' support By MARK SEGAL

Post Political Correspondent A definite shift away from unqualified support for Israel among ieaders of West Germany's ruling Social Democratic party was found by Doy Ben-Meir, chairman of the Tel Aviv Labour Council.

Ben-Men returned last week from a three-week visit to Germany as an official guest of the Labour Confederation (DGB) of North-Rhine-Westphalia, the most popuious and industrialized of the Federal Republic's 10 states. The Tel Aviv labour organization has enjoyed close relations with the Rhine-Westphalia DGB for a number of vears Apart from meeting state leaders including President Johannes Rau, the leader of the Israel Labour Party's Tel Aviv bi anch said he was able to sound out an entire range of opinion among SPD and DGB leaders across the country. including Justice Minister Hans Vogel and SPD vice-chairman Hans Suschnick.

PLU chief Yasser Arafat's cordial meeting with Socialist International president and SPD chairman Willy Brandt in Vienna provided a disturbing background to Ben-Meir's conversations. Ben-Meir asked the German leaders how Arafat won recognition from Brandt without giv-

By SKAYA SHAPIRO

Jerusalem Post Reporter

HIRBET AKKAD, near Latrun. — This ancient battlefield hillside, overlooking the ancient Hasmonean

road linking the plains to Jerusalem still appears to archaeologists led by Prof. Mordachai Gihon like the Gihon 'ed summer excavations at the site which was the scene of battles between the Maccabeans and

Seleucid rulers. Bar Kochba's

men later took it from the Romans,

but the Jewish rebels eventually had to abandon the site. seeking shelter

Arrowneads, spears, stone and iron missiles still are strewed

incough the hillside, evident to the practised eyes of the archaeologists. And in the course of excavations there this summer, some three montes of standing walls were un-

The walls were probably built by &

How is the time to acquire

With the dollar worth more,

DEVALUATION = DISCOUNT

24 Offices for Complete Real Estate

129a Sderot Hanassi. Tel. 04-81296

NAHARIYA 28 Sderot Haga aton Tel. 04-922705

55 Sderoi ha'atzmaut, Tel. 04-444668

kika: Ha'atzmaut, Tel. 053-28290

Charles C. Municipal Building, Room 104 Tes 055-41212

ASHKELON: 77 Rehov Kupst Holim, Tel. 051-

BEERSHEBA. Si Hehoz Yan Tel 057-37756

Brigan Germe Opposite Egged Tel 059 6210, 6889

05 28t (8)

PETAH TIKVA:

RA'ANANA

REHOVOI

KFAR SABA.

GREATER TEL AVIV AREA:

TEL AVIV 161 Reno: Hayarkon Kikar Hajatarim,

HOLGIN 27 Rehov Sokolow Tel. 03-878542.

BAT YAM 22 Rehov Rothschild, Tel. 03-875857

Rehav Sakalow Tel. 03-987258

RAMAT HASHARON:

Renov Wolfson, Tel. 03-911294

SAVYON-KIRON: 54 Hama agal, Rimon, Kiryat Ono, Tel U3-757281

70 Rehay Ahuza Tel 052-20663, 052-32-358

HOD HASHARON 36 Octob Hasharon Tel. 052-35334

Tehov Herzi Tel. 054-52677

fiche. Weizmann, Tel. 052-25381

RAMA1 GAN: 9 Renov Krimzi, Tel. 03-729279

HERZLIYA PITUAH: Kikai Hazionut, Tel. 03-930261

KIRYAT TIVON: . Kikar Ben Gurion, Tel. 04-934125

2 Hasoreg Street. Tel. 02-221161

Service Throughout Israel:

KIFIYAT BIALIK/MOTZKIN: 16 Derech Ako, Kiryat Bjalik

JERUSALEM:

Tel 04-711837

KIRYAT ATA:

NETANYA

ASHDOU

23:75.

Eli.AT

HAIFA:

all our homes cost less.

FOOTHOLD

YOUR

IN ISRAEL!

e a nea

iz a network of caves nearby.

battleficid it once was."

ing anything in return. Brandt did not insist on censuring PLO terrorism nor on any change in the PLO Covenant's commitment to destroy Israel. But these questions went unanswered. The SPD takes its general line from Chancellor Helmut Schmidt, who makes no secret of his firm dislike of the Begin government. Taking this into account, Ben-Meir sought to drive home the message that they were not only getting at the Likud by pro-Arab policies but at the whole of Israel, which included their old friends in Israel's Labour Party.

One favourite theme popped up among some of his respondents, like Minister Vogel: "Willy Brandt has shown himself to have far-reaching vision which has yet to be disproved. Thus the 'grand coalition' he formed with the Christian Democratic Union (CDU) paved the way for the SPD's rise to power, and his Ost-Politik helped put Germany back on the international map. Having been so right so far. can he now be wrong? After all, such a good friend of Israel would never do anything likely to cause it harm." Ben-Meir pointed to a conscious effort to get out from Germany's moral commitment to Israel, with many young Germans simply uninterested. "Their apologetics have an ominous ring, taking on an ac-

Damascus general to entrench against Jewish rebels in the second ologists, who included two University of Florence restoration experts.

Tampone and Dr. Marco Cenzatti accompanied Gihon of the Classics

Department at Tel Aviv University, in the efforts to uncover the hopes and tragedies of two Jewish libera-

Roman centurions who overran the hillside, the Jewish rebels hid in the network of caves that apparently served them for some time. Ventilation channels, corridors, small rooms and a large hall were all dis-

The Romans probably used "small

Jewish books set for Moscow fair

First tourists return from Egypt

pebbles to block the ventilation

NEW YORK (JTA). — The Association of Jewish Book Publishers

(AJBP) has accepted an invitation to exhibit at the second Moscow Book Fair, Jacob Steinberg, presi-

Steinberg said that the exhibit in Moscow, on September 4-10, will include more than 650 Jewish books published in the U.S. The exhibit consists of a careful selection of the foremost Jewish books cuiled from literature, culture, history, religion and contemporary life he noted. It in English translation, titles in Yiddish, Hebrew and Russian, and

BEN-GURION AIRPORT (Itim). —

The Egyptian authorities have promised that in the future Israeli tourists will not be held up with for-

This was reported by the first malities on their arrival in Egypt.

group of Israeli toutists who returned home from Cairo via Athens, on Thursday night. They had been held up for five hours when they landed in eight-day tour of Egypt, they felt that the Egyptian people genuinely

Ahmed Badihi from Kar'a village said that it had been exciting for him to meet Arabs from a country

The tourists said that after their

the Egyptian capital.

want peace.

"Our aim is commercial,"

dent of the AJBP, announced.

When Bar-Kochba's men fled the

The Florentines. Dr. Gennaro

ntury B.C.C. said the archae-

Seeing the battlefield 'as it once was tion movement.

covered near the hill.

cusatory tone. They argue that Israel has cast out morality from its politics and has let its interests take precedent, quoting our ties with South Africa, arms supplies to the Somoza regime and initial support of Idi Amin. So — they ask — why shouldn't Germany also let its interests take pride of place?" It is also well-nigh impossible for any official Israeli explanation of its settlement policy in the West Bank and the bombings of south Lebanon to find a sympathetic hearing in the Federal Republic, Ben-Meir said.

What had struck him during his visit was how Schmidt's meteoric rise on the world stage had reflected back onto the home scene. He dominated the field, and the SPD depended on him and not vice-versa. He was their only asset in blocking the CDU's drive to regain power and put Franz-Josef Strauss into the chancellorship.

Ben-Meir's tangible achievement was the renewal of his council's formal partnership with the North-Rhine-Westphalia DGB, providing for the exchange of delegations and similar projects. The Germans also plan to film Histadrut activities in Tel Aviv. He noted that this relationship had demonstrated how grass-roots ties can be preserved and enhanced irrespective of the vagaries of changing governments.

channels," Gihon said yesterday during a tour of the site. Although no

skeletons have yet been found, Gihon said the scientists are still at the start of the dig, and that the caves were used by shepherds up to a generation ago. They were filled archaeologists.

with pebbles when uncovered by the

The Florentine participants, here to consult on monument

restorations, said that they are in-

was of the general Mediterranean

type," said Tampone, adding, "but it would be wrong to say that local engineers only copied what was evolved abroad — there was a lively exchange of ideas and methods, and

Romans are known to have visited

Steinberg said, "but at the same time the titles will give their readers access to the Jewish heritage, and an in-depth knowledge, understanding and appreciation of Jews and Judaism, both past and present."

While the AJBP exhibit at the first

Moscow Book Fair in 1977 was limited largely to books by its members, the second exhibit will contain titles of Jewish interest

issued by general trade publishers and university presses as well. The enlargement of the exhibit to double that of 1977. Steinberg said was made possible by a grant from the Joseph Meyerholf Foundation and the participation of the American Jewish Committee and the Jewish that for so many years had been at war with Israel. "They did not believe that I was an Arab and that I had rights like other Israelis, until I showed them my Israeli passport,"

Nissim Agasi, said that he and some friends had rented a taxi and driven to Ismailiya to see the Canal from the Egyptian side after doing reserve duty on the Israeli side. He was impressed by the good manners of the Egyptians but noted that the man-in-the-street there did not know

· The group tour was organized by what Israelis looked like.

the Tourolam company

Another member of the group,

he said.

Book Council as co-sponsors

Palestine in search of new ideas."

"Building in Palestine of the epoch

terested in architectural finds.

One of a dozen thoroughbred horses brought to Israel yesterday from London is off loaded as Israeli horse breeders seek to improve local breeds. The dozen thoroughbreds include Arabians and True (Government Press Office)

New Gaza moshav opens

By JOSHUA BRILLIANT Jerusalem Poet Reporter

GANEI TAL. — Thirty-five families held a house-warming celebration last week to mark the establishment of this new moshav in the sand dunes northwest of Khan Yunis.

It is the fourth in a string of seven settlements and a regional centre which are to be a buffer zone between Egypt and the Gaza Strip's 450,000 residents after north Sinai is returned to Egypt. The chairman of the Ministerial Settlement Committee, Agriculture Minister Ariel Sharon, on Wednesday urged the settlers and their parent organization, Hapcel Hamizrachi's moshav movement, to quickly recruit garinim (settlement groups) for two additional ettlements approved for the region. These settlements will be situated in a horseshoe configuration, from Nezer Hazani to Morag.

The settlers, however, said they are uneasy about the possibility they would eventually face the fate of the north Sinai settlements.

Interior Minister Yosef Burg. chairman of the Israeli delegation to the autonomy talks, told them: "It's inconceivable that such a place planned by the government will not be a permanent settlement linked with the Jewish map.

Sharon stressed that the projected Arab autonomous administration will have no authority over the Jewish settlements. But the settlers indicated they were not reassured. Sharon spoke standing on a sand dune, dotted with low acacia bushes. Projecting from the sand nearby were metal poles, the skeletons of a projected 100 dunams of glass and plastic-covered hothouses for vegetables and flowers. The houses were built at the foot of a hill, about one kilometre from the Khan Yunis

Experiment experiments with Israel

Jerusalem Pest Reporter Nearly 100 delegates from some 30 countries are gathering in les una serr this week for the annual conference of an unusual international organiza tion dedicated to international understanding, called The Experi-

The delegates and their families will be the guests of the Israel branch of the organization for a week starting today such as Nigeria, India, Kenya and Malaysia are scheduled to par-Experiment is an American based con-profit organization that was es-tablished in 1932. It is dedicated to fustering peaceful relations among peoples on the basis of personal rriationships between them.

People from countries that have no diplomatic relations with Israei.

Lotto Draw 38/79

Minimum First Prize

11.2,000,000*

Misimum total prize tund 11A,500,000*

TOMORROW is the last day

for handing in Lotto entries.

Randmum first prize on any of the commitment of Leonard Berns

lent to compose a special hymn, atthough he has no document from the American musician to back it up.

He has written to Prime Minister

isegin and Egyptian President Sadat

for their support of the "happening," stated for March 26. "Begin responded that he agrees 'in principle,' but

He has also written to UN

Saint hasn't answered vet." he said.

Secretary-General Waldheim for ensistance in providing tents, trucks and other equipment. "We will be asking international food companies and medical organizations to serve

In actist hopes through inter-

Since he got the idea several months ago, Richter says he has been so excited that he has trouble steeping. People say I'm crazy. But national publicity to stimulate interest and attract large numbers of

as sponsors," says Richter.

young people.

Subject to rescrutiny.

ne entry. 11.2m.

'Human peace-chain' between

Tel Aviv and Cairo proposed spent on tours and visits with the families of local members. The esident of Experiment in Israel is Tot A.iv city councilman, Nathan Wallach (Lacour)

from the trouser pocket of a hotel

Sigeti rebbe seen as new head of Satmar hassidim

NEW YORK (JTA). — Rabbi Moshe Teitelbaum, who came to Boro Park in Brooklyn 45 years ago from Siget, Rumania and is therefore known as the Sigeti Rebbe, is expected to succeed Rabbi Joel Teitelbaum as rebbe of the Satmar movement, it was learned on Friday from well-informed sources in the Hassidic

Rabbi Moshe Teltelbaum is a son of the late Joel Teitelbaum's brother, Rabbi Yezikiel Teitelbaum. The sources said that Rabbi Monie Taitalbaum's virtually certain succession to the post of Satmar rebbe is related to the fact that the late Joel Teitelbaum, who died on August 19 at the age of 93, left no will naming a successor nor had any whom would norz

Rabbi Joel Teitelbaum was survived by his second wife, Feige, whom he reportedly married in the 1930s in Europe after his first wife died, leaving him three daughters, all of whom he outlived. There were no children from the second

The sources said that there was no struggle over the leadership because there is no valid contender of the stature of Rabbi Moshe Teitelbaum, and that the leadership gap will not be filled until after the shloshim, the 30 days of mourning.

The sources said there may be a period of adjustment to the shock of the loss of Rabbi Joel Teitelbaum, who came to the United States and led the development of the Satmar community into a communal struc-Williamsburg and Boro Park sections of Brooklyn.

However, the sources said, the movement was too large and dynamic to remain unaffected by any lengthy period of leaderlessness. They predicted that a growing number of Satmar bassidim will begin to attend Rabbi Moshe Teitelbaum's congregation in Boro Park and that, without any formal announcement or ceremony, Rabbi Moshe Teitelbaum will become rebbe of the Satmar movement, though he will continue to be known refugee camp.

community.

have succeeded him.

as the Sigeti rebbe.

Aslan appeals cocaine sentence

TEL AVIV. - Yehezkel Aslan, now serving a three-year term for con-

Aslan, who was at one stage described by the police as a leader of organized crime in the country, was entenced with four other persons after they were caught discussing an enormous cocaine deal in the Tel

Aviv Ramada Continental Hotel. In his appeal, Aslan's attorney, Moshe Rom; quotes District Court Judge Hadassah Ben-Ito, who sentenced his client: "It should have been expected that the police produce evidence that the court could use without using a magnifying glass and tweezers to get out a word or sentence here and there that spiring to sell cocaine, has appealed his sentenced in the Supreme Court.

indicated a conspiracy.'

TEL AVIV STOCK MARKET REVIEW

advanced 15 lost ground.

more than IL900m., was diminutive when compared with the year's high of IL3,279.5m. recorded exactly two months ago. Bond trading activity was even more subdued, as a year's low of IL185.9 was recorded. The previous low was established nearly seven months ago.

continued to pour in, but had little effect on investor activity. Securities advisers at Tel Aviv's commercial banks seemed to be busy catching up on their reading.

FIBI, the second commercial bank to report its profit and loss statement for the period ending on June 30, scored a gain in after-tax profits of nearly 250 per cent compared to the same period last year. The bank is relatively small compared to the big three — Leumi, Hapoalim and Discount - and investors may find the results of the big three disappointing if they try to measure them against those of FIBL.

Ararat shares will be traded for the first time today. In view of the vast oversubscription the shares will probably reach the market with a substantial premium. However, in view of the small allocation the individual investor will not reap any major profits.

best performers of the week in the form of Phoenicia, which rose by 25.8 per cent, and Argaman, which gained 18.4 per cent.

Most of the time in Israel will be

POCKETING TIPS. -- A warrant -s issued vesterday for the arrest of an a year-old Khan Yunis resident employed at a Tel Aviv hotel. He is suspected of stealing IL1,720

Driver -STOPI

School starts today! 1,900,000 kids on the roads!

At precisely the same time you are rushing to work a million schoolchildren are rushing to school. Be prepared! Safeguard the children's lives! Drive as if:

Do not exceed a safe speed for the conditions. Slow down before every junction and pedestrian

Help the safety monitors by obeying their instruc-

Be particularly careful near cars that are parking.

The Schools Have Reopened — Drive Carefully!

Ministry of Transport * NATIONAL ACCIDENT PREVEN-TION COUNCIL * Ministry of Education and Culture * The Israel Police

Presented by AVNER Insurance and Accident Victims

WALL STREET WEEK

Market jumps at odd stocks

nacular of Wall Street, last week's market was a "storgy" week — a time when traders jumped at rumours or news on individual stocks while the broader market

Low-priced and little known gold mining stocks enjoyed a flurry of activity when the price of bullion hit new records in London and Zurich markets during the week, but some faded later. And scores of lesser known issues of every variety caught the market's attention, sometimes only briefly, because of some specific development or a rumour. Not all panned out, of pany officials said they knew of no reason to account for the trading or issued denials of market rumours of Newton Zinder, an analyst at E.F. Hutton, suggested that while the blue chips drifted there were some sessions last week which were great for "story stocks and an assortment of low-priced issues, some of dubious quality. Institutions have apparently become less active and the market and public participants.

price changes in secondary issues but little movement in the popular averages," Zinder said.

The Dow Jones industrial average closed with a 7.43 net gain at 887.63 for the week. The largest movements in the widely watched blue chip indicator came on Monday when the Dow rose 5.21 points and on Friday with a 3.93 gain. The three sessions sandwiched in between saw only small fluctuations in the Dow industrial and most other indicators.

The New York Stock Exchange composite of all listed stocks managed a .46 gain for the week to close at 82.40. On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index gained 1.37 to 217.61.

Volume slowed during the week and Friday's pre-holiday turnover came in at 26.37 million shares, the slowest turnover in about a month and a half. Overall volume for the week averaged 29.59 million shares, down from 35.61 million shares in the previous week.

IMITATOR. — Beershebs resident Alfred Blumenthal, 42, was convicted yesterday in Beersheba

Little excitement on market

By JOSEPH MORGENSTERN

Post Finance Reporter
TEL AVIV. — There was little activity on the Tel Aviv Stock Exchange, still in the summer doldrums, last week to arouse any excitement of measurable proportions. The General Share Index inched up by 0.3 per cent, but for every 10 shares that

Trading activity, including "off-the-floor" transactions of slightly

Sparkling semi-annual reports

A harbinger of future developments came in the form of the financial results reported by the First International Bank of Israel. industrials produced two of the

The index-linked bond market was mixed last week, and upwards price activity was generated by the 6.5 per cent defence loans, which gained

ANGLO-SAXON BEAL ESTATE AGENCY LTD. seems to be dominated by traders District Court of posing as a doctor in order to get drugs from local phar-"This is producing some large

FARAG PHOTO STUDIOS TELAVIV

E DEVELTE BRING IN YOUR FILM TILL 9 A.M. & GET YOUR COLOR PICTURES - THE SAME DAY, FROM 5 P.M. ON.

FARAG PHOTO STUDIOS - LEADERS IN THE WORLD OF PHOTOGRAPHY, IN SERVICE, SPEED & INTERNATIONAL INNOVATIONS.

* COLOR FILMS AT SPECIAL REDUCTION * OPEN SATURDAYS 7-9 P.M. *

FARAG PHOTO STEDIOS

Irish border sealed off to thwart revenge raids

DUBLIN (AP). - Troops and police in the Irish Republic sealed off the border with strife-torn Northern Ircland on Friday to prevent threatened raids by Protestant terrorists following the assassingtion of Earl Mountbatten by members of the mainly Roman Catholic Irish Republican Army,

Prime Minister Jack Lynch's Flanna Fail (soldiers of destiny) government in Dublin ordered the massive operation after John Taylor, a leading Protestant politician in the north, said "loyalists" should aim revenge attacks against the republic.

Taylor, a British member of the European Parliament who survived an IRA assassination attempt eight years ago, urged Protestant hardliners not to take up arms. But he declared that if the leaders of Protestant paramilitary organizations decide to act, their attacks "should be directed at targets within the Republic of Ireland, from which most of the serious IRA attacks now originate." Informed sources said three battalions, around 1,200 troops, and more than 2,000 policemen based on the touchy border will man 24-hour checkpoints on all border crossings for the next few days. A police spokesman said all traffic into the republic from Ulster "will be closely checked" and parked vehicles in border towns inspected in case they are carrying bombs.

th€

In what police believe may be the first renewed Protestant attack, a Catholic shop assistant was yesterday shot dead near the centre of Belfast. Police said that two teenagers drove up to the shop on a motorcycle and fired at the man at point-blank range. The abandoned motorcycle was found later in a Protestant neighbourhood.

The last major incursion by Protestants south of the border was in May 1974, when 22 persons in Dublin were killed in a rash of car bombings and three others in the border town of Monaghan.

The Dublin government's move reflected growing tensions in both parts of Ireland following last Monday's assassination of Earl Mountbatten, a cousin of Queen Elizabeth II. members of his family and 18 British soldiers on the border. All died in bomb attacks claimed by the

The killings — one of the worst single-day death tolls in the 10-yearold northern Ireland conflict - also rekindled charges that the republic

Lynch this week, but authoritative sources in London said no major political initiative or cross-border security crackdown was expected to hospital to visit members of Mountbatten's family who survived last Monday's bomb blast.

Government officials said Thatcher wants Lynch to get tough with the IRA in the Republic, which the British have long charged is a haven for the guerrillas and launching pad for raids into Northern Ireland.

Argentina gov't tense before 'vanished suspects' probe

awaited inspection of Argentina by the Inter-American Human Rights Commission, due to arrive here on Wednesday, has forced the touchy issue of "disappeared" people into open and aggravated tension within the military government here. President Jorge Videla agreed last October to invite the inspectors and is said to feel confident Argentina will portray a regime that is working to restore law after winning a "dirty war" against left-wing terrorists. But army Chief of Staff Carlos Suarez Mason and a few other hardline generals still oppose the twoweek inspection, diplomats say, for fear it might stir up bolder demands within Argentina for accounting the "desaparecidos" — thousands of political suspects who vanished and presumably were executed in the "dirty war."

The split has plagued the armed forces since they overthrew Juan Peron's widow, Isabel, in 1976. Hardliners, eager to supplant the moderates in power, have repeatedly forced Videla to delay a return to democracy on grounds that civilians might conduct a witch-hunt for military officers held responsible for the repression.

In an attempt to reassure the hardliners, General Roberto Viola, Videla's ally and army commander, declared in a recent Army Day speech that the military would never permit a detailed accounting of 'those who are forever absent.'

Viola and Videla have admitted the military committed "excesses," in the anti-terrorist campaign, but are trying to put these episodes behind them.

The government banned a recent publication listing 5.581 "desaparecidos" — titled "Where Are They?" — and has changed the

RASILIA (REUTER). — Brazil's

supreme military court held a second day of special meetings on Fri-day to decide the legal status of political offenders in the light of the amnesties to 326 people. They included Luis Carlos Prestes, 81-year-old secretary-general of the outlawed

Brazilian Communist Party, who has been living in exile in Moscow

Figuelredo on Tuesday sanctioned

SALE OF -

CONTINUES!

For the 1979/80

Discounts offered

Detailed programme

will be sent on request.

until Sept. 28.

concert season.

TICKETS

SUBSCRIPTION

Brazilian President Joac

The court on Thursday granted country's new amnesty law.

for several years.

declare them legally dead and collect employer pensions.

But moderates were embarrassed last month by 10 disappearances — the first since May — and by police raids on four civil rights groups' offices. Many political observers blame hard-liners for trying to provoke a cancellation of the inter-American inspection.

U.S. State Department spokesman Tom Reston said Washington ordered U.S. diplomats here to check reports of secret camps where the missing might have been put to

The Argentine press has already given limited coverage to disappearance cases, including labour activists who vanished in August and six literature students who disappeared during a seminar in May.

Open discussion of the issue has increased since the rights commission was invited here. Many Argentines have lost their fear of reporting disappearances of relatives to the courts, and some judges have become more assertive in demanding information from the military.

As a result, reports are growing. In May 1978, Argentine human rights groups listed 2,500 cases of suspects who were seized by armed men and were never seen again by their families. Now they list 5,810 "desaparecidos," most of them arrested in 1976 and 1977 but reported missing only in the past

The inter-American commission expects to hear new cases when it holds public meetings in Buenos Aires, Tucuman and Cordoba. Human rights activists hope the inspectors, who will also meet with government officials and visit jails. will get authorities to admit how many "desaparecidos" are alive.

legislation granting political amnes-

The 5,000, mostly now living abroad, were purged by the military government after a 1964 coup which

ousted left-leaning president Joao

The amnesty law did not include people convicted of terrorism. but the supreme military court, in a precedent-setting judgement, granted amnesties to two men and wo women who hijacked a Brazilian airliner in 1972 and forced the pilot to ty to an estimated 5,000 people.

Goulart.

fly it to Cuba.

TEL AVIV

Tel. 03-210102

9 a.m. — 2 p.m.

JERUSALEM

Binyenei Ha'ooma

12 Rehov Shamai,

Tel. 02-222317.

Tel. 04-222608

9 a.m. - 1 p.m.;

Garber, Central Carmel.

Tel. 04-84777, and at the Ziv Centre, Neve Shaanan.

9 a.m. — 1 p.m.; 4 — 6 p.m.

Tel. 02-222481. 9 a.m. — 3 p.m.

and Cahana,

4 — 6 p.m.

HAIFA

The offices of the Orchestra

2 Rehov Dafna, Beit Asia

ORCHESTRA

NEW YORK (AP). - Police cars the branches, authorities said, but a

began spending part of their patrols outside hundreds of New York City's banks on Friday in an effort to stem a record number of holdups. But three more bank branches were robbed to bring the total for last Brazil ponders fate of political offenders month to 140. Police Commissioner Robert McGuire issued the order for police cars to "pay special attention" to banks following robberies at 11 banks on Thursday. Calling the holdup men "brazen," McGuire said, "they've got to be caught." As if in answer, three more banks woman thought to be involved in one of the holdups was arrested when she returned to the bank.

bank robberies, set in July, was broken on Wednesday when three banks were robbed.

from 1975, is concentrating on protecting about 600 bank branches that authorities consider "robberyprone." Banks also are getting protection from 30 hand-picked detectives who completed a week of special training on Friday designed to help them capture bank robbers.

left the city strewn with shattered

roofs, rubble and uprooted trees.
"We don't know how many dead or injured there are. It is totally dark, a ghost town, nobody's moving," said an operator who rode out one of the worst storms in Caribbean history in the international telephone and teletype building near the national

In Puerto Rico, which received

mly a glancing blow from David,

five persons were killed and $50m. in damage to the island's crops alone was reported. Twenty thousand people were said to be homeless.

Intensive courses in

Hurricane David may brush Miami

slammed into Haiti yesterday and then headed northwest on a course which could take it along the East Coast of the U.S., the U.S. Coast Guard said yesterday. A Coast Guard spokesman said the storm, which claimed dozens of lives on the Caribbean islands of gusting 210 km. an hour.

as it is now travelling, David will brush Miami and continue up the East Coast," the spokesman said, adding that coast guards had not yet received damage or casualty reports from Haiti.

capital. Santo Domingo, the storm

(Reuter, UPI)

from the 3rd-13th of October. In JERUSALEM 10 days from the 14th-25th of October.

For information and program call: 02-862469 or 02-666349 between 7-10 p.m.

THE INDEPENDENT SCHOOL OF YOGA AND MEDITATION

Yoga, Tantra and Meditation

IC roses, 200 illustrationed Rider Books.

Also read: 'Medical & Psychological Scientific Research on Yoga & Meditation' by Peo (published by Bindu) 81 page

Cuba: U.S. engineering summit row

jected charges that it was seeking to subordinate the Non-Aligned Movement to any outside force and accused the U.S. and its allies of trying to create a false impression of confrontation in the 96-member organization.

The statement by Deputy Foreign Minister Jose Viera in an interview with the Cuban news agency, Prensa Latina, followed a drive by moderate delegates against what they see as a Cuban bid to shift the movement into an orbit closer to Moscow.

Cuban President Fidel Castro is due to preside at the sixth Non-Aligned summit in Havana this week. But Cuba's chairmanship has been under fire at preparatory meetings over handling of the delicate issue of who should represent war-torn Cambodia. Moderate delegates have also expressed dismay at a tough Cuban draft declaration for the summit which bitterly attacks the West.

Meanwhile, U.S. State Department allegations that the Soviet Union has sent 2,000 to 3,000 combat troops to Cuba are being viewed here as a U.S. attempt to embarrass Cuba on the eve of the summit. Cuba had no official comment to the department's assertion, but several Cuban analysts said previous U.S. allegations about Soviet military activities have often had no

Word of the U.S. statement spread quickly among the delegates, with several delegates more interested in its timing than its substance. Cuban sources reacted the same way. The statement was seen by some as a U.S. attempt to project Cuba as a country which has forfeited its claim to be a non-aligned nation because of its close ties with Moscow. Heng Samrin, leader of the new Cambodian government, arrived Friday night for an official visit during the summit, receiving a warm embrace from Castro in a welcome which contrasted sharply with that given earlier in the day to Khieu Samphan, leader of the previous Cambodian government.

Cuba wants the Non-Aligned Movement to recognize the new regime as Cambodia's legal government, but the movement is deeply split on the issue, with many members criticizing Vietnam for giving military backing to the takeover by the new rulers.

Delegates from these countries have complained that Cuba was preempting the issue by inviting Heng Samrin to make his official visit during the summit. The decision at present is not to seat either delegation. After four hours of private talks on Friday between Castro and the other key figure at the summit, 87-year-old President Tito of Yugoslavia, Yugoslav reaction remained cautious. The meeting was described as positive, but it was apparent that the Yugoslavs wanted more assurances from the Cubans.

Tito arrived in Cuba after waging vigorous diplomatic campaign t keep the 18-year-old Non-Aligned Movement, of which he is the last surviving founder, true to its neutral path between the super powers. Viera said the Cuban draft reflected the views of member countries and the sum of amendments from over 40 nations including Yugoslavia, Algeria, Ethlopia, Indonesia, Cyprus and Vietnam. He said it contained no new political or philosophical concepts and added, "In no portion of the document is the Non-Aligned Movement subordinated to any outside force." He claimed the U.S. campaign was a smokescreen to cloak pressures by the U.S. and its allies. "They have sought to create the impression of a confrontation between Cuba and other countries which does not ex-

The U.S. Friday statement that intelligence estimates "come to the unambiguous conclusion" that there is now a Soviet combat unit of 2,000 to 3,000 men in Cuba, went on to say the troops posed no threat to the U.S., but it expressed "concern," and said the U.S. was asking the Soviets for a complete explanation of the troops and their mission.

It was not clear what had caused the dramatic revision of U.S. estimates of Soviet troop presence in Cuba, but State Department spokesman Hodding Carter denied it was connected with attempts to discredit Cuba. (Reuter, AP)

World's first spinal were stationed nearby as Botha and replacement patient five cabinet ministers flew into Soweto by belicopter. Police BALTIMORE, Maryland (AP). marksmen were posted on roofs and in doorways along the dingy streets.

Jessie Thomas, 33, yesterday became the world's first successful spinal replacement patient, according to the University of Maryland Hospital.

After 19 consecutive hours of surgery, attending doctors said they were optimistic and the only concern was the possibility of infection.

Thomas has been lying motionless since a July 17 operation to remove vertebrae following the discovery of a rare bone tumour the size of a cantaloupe.

Doctors found the tumour after the woman became paralysed in May. Now they say that with the replacement, she has a remote chance of being able to walk again.

The operation involved placing two steel rods on the back of the woman's spine to prevent the spinal column from twisting, followed by the implantation of a metal prosthesis, the head of the surgical team said. The final step involved removing a section of the pelvic bone and grafting it to the front of the spinal column.

"Man-made materials don't last forever," he said, adding that the bone will eventually grow, connect the remaining vertebrae and serve as a permanent spinal replacement.

Peking demonstrators carted away

PEKING (AP). - The government yesterday rounded up 30 of the 50 ragged demonstrators who have been staging an on-again-off-again sit-in outside China's government headquarters since Tuesday.

The demonstrators, who are seek ing jobs, food and redress of old wrongs, were driven away in two buses. Twenty others remained behind to continue their vigil at the gates of the Chungnanhai government offices in hopes of meeting with Premier Hua Guofeng (Kuo-Feng) and senior deputy premier Deng Xiaoping (Teng Hslao-Ping).

Ghanaian advances date to hand over power

ABIDJAN (Reuter). — Ghana's military ruler, Flight Lieutenant Jerry Rawlings, announced in a broadcast speech last night that he would hand over power to a civilian administration on September 24 ending almost a decade of military rule in Ghana.

The officer, who took power in a military coup on June 4 and launched a widespread anti-corruption campaign, had earlier pledged to hand over power on October 1.

UN science fund

VIENNA (AP). - The UN conference on science and technology for development ended yesterday with an agreement to set up a fund for technological development to be managed by a committee open to all UN members.

The fund amounts to $250m, for the 1980-81 period. The conference could not, however, reach agreement on the transfer of technology to developing countries and the role of multinational companies in this

read Swami Janakananda's book:

in bid to control crime wave The immediate reaction from the KAMPALA. — The Ugandan diplomatic community, which last week threatened to pull out staff if government clamped a curfew on

Curfew clamped on Kampala

the capital, Kampala, last night and stepped up police and army patrols to counter a wave of murders and robberies.

Defence Minister Yoweri Museveni, who is acting head of state while President Godfrey Binaisa attends the non-aligned movement's summit conference in Cuba, blamed the crime wave on "lawless elements" but said some murders had been committed for political motives. The curfew will be in force from 10 p.m. to 6 a.m. local time and will last until the government is sure that public safety has been restored, Radio Uganda said.

Heads of diplomatic missions have been offered a nightly guard of two armed soldiers for each residence. They have also been given a special telephone number for use in emergencies. There have been complaints that the usual "999" police emergency number produced no response.

the security position did not improve, is to wait a few days and see if the new measures prove effective. One ambassador told reporters there had been shooting on Friday night "as normal" in the city's

In Dar Es Salaam, Tanzanian President Julius Nyerere said Tanzanian troops stationed in Uganda have not been involved in the crimes which have plagued the post-Amin government.

Kololo area, where most diplomats

Nyerere said 20,000 Tanzanian troops are still in Uganda while the Ugandan government is making 'alternative arrangements'' for the defence of the country. The president said stories of misbehaviour by Tanzanian troops in Uganda are lies. "Some of these lies come from people who ate and drank with Amin, who stole and killed with Amin." (Reuter, UPI, AP)

5 Soviet officers killed in Mozambique African conflicts. It said the killings

JOHANNESBURG (AP). - Artigovernment guerrillas shot and killed five Soviet "senior officers" last month in the Mozambique bush country "The Citizen" newspaper claimed on Friday.

Well-informed diplomatic sources later confirmed the report, which they said has been circulating recently in Marxist-ruled Mozambique's capital, Maputo.

A front-page article by the Johannesburg paper's chief writer, Aida Parker, said these were the first Soviet casualties in southern took place near the town of Nampula and that the bodies were flown to the USSR in a Soviet aircraft on July 28.

Intelligence sources consulted on the article said that the guerrilla movement is known to be active in the Nampula area. "The Citizen" is the paper set up with secret South African government funds in 1974. When the source of its funding became public knowledge earlier this year, it was sold to a private company.

Professor charged with Moro killing

ROME (UPI). - Authorities have formally charged an ultra-leftist college professor with the killing of former premier Aldo Moro in what judicial sources described yesterday as a major development in the Red Brigades terror gang investigation.

The murder charges against Franco Piperno, a 36-year-old physics professor now being held by French police, were revealed on Friday during an extradition hearing in Paris. Piperno, arrested in Paris on August 18, had initially been accused of armed insurrection and subversive activities — charges the French ficient for extradition back to Italy. But just before the ruling was issued, Italian Justice Ministry officials handed the French court a list of 46 new and more specific charges against Piperno, among them accusations of direct involvement in the May 9, 1978 assassination of More, which Italian judicial officials said should be more than sufficient to assure his extradition. The Red Brigades killed Moro. then president of the ruling Christian Democratic Party, after holding him hostage for 54 days.

Norway tests ocean-swell power

OSLO (AP) - The World's first prototype test plant designed to harness ocean energy by focusing ocean swells into concentrated powerful waves was opened in Norway on Friday. The process is analagous to the light-focusing mechanism of a camera's wide-The method was developed during eight years of research at Norway's Central Institute for Industrial Research. It was started up on Friday by Norwegian deputy Energy Minister Trygve Tamburstuen at a 1:100 test scale on an artificial 150by-100 metre lake outside Oslo.

A common feature of earlier ocean energy proposals and experiments is that they aim at extracting energy directly from the incoming wave front at coastlines. The Norwegian project, however, concentrates the energy of constant ocean swells into hydroelectric power.

"With our system ocean swells over distances up to 10 kilometres can be concentrated within an area of less than 500 metres, producing wave heights of between 15 and 30 metres." project leader Even Mehlum said.

A wave-energy tapping method that would fit well with the landacape will include large functishaped chutes into which the waves would enter and be pressed up into reservoirs located as high as 100 metres above sea level and then flow down to generate electricity at power plants located at sea level.

BEIT ATID invites you to a ROSH HASHANA SEMINAR

Sunday, Sept. 9 through Wednesday, Sept. Sun. THE SELF ALONE

Mon. THE SELF AND OTHER Tue. THE SELF AND ISRAEL Wed. A NEW BEGINNING

Place:

Ime: 3.15 -4.40 p.m. Halacha or Midrash 4.40-5.00 p.m. Refreshments

5.00-6.30 p.m. Machzor (prayer) or Jewish Philosophy Centre for Conservative Judaism 2-4 Agron Street

Join BEIT ATID in its search for Jewish spirituality in the process of change and self-renewal.

in the Ross Information Centre is now open to the public: Sunday-Thursday: 8 a.m. - 4 p.m. Fridays, Holidays: 8 a.m. - 2 p.m.

HADASSAH MEDICAL ORGANIZATION

wishes to announce that the

CAFETERIA at the PASSAH-UNIVERSITY HOSPITAL

on Mount Scopus

IRA's "Provisional" wing.

is a haven for the IRA. British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher will meet Prime Minister come out of the meeting.

On Friday, Lynch flew to Sligo

SOWETO, South Africa. - South African Prime Minister Pieter Botha, closely protected by police sharpshooters, ventured into the black township of Soweto on Friday and told its million-plus inhabitants that he opened his heart to them. "This is not just a courtesy call."

Strict security along the border shows an Irish patrol fanning out across rough terrain in the wild and hilly countryside of South Ar-

Botha sounds liberal tone in unprecedented Soweto visit

magh, hot spot for Provisional IRA activity.

he told some 3,000 blacks outside the civil council chambers of the township near Johannesburg. "This is one of the highlights of my career.' It was the first time any South African premier had visited the township, scene of student protests and bloody police suppression in June 1976 which caused a major black protest throughout South But there were no incidents or protests on Friday. In a gesture in line with his new conciliation policy to the black majority, Botha announced that his government would write off nine million rand (about IL280m.) of Soweto's debts. The township has been seething in recent days over plans, temporarily shelved, to raise rents and rates for its box-like houses by as much as 200 per cent to finance a major facelift.

PLAINS, Georgia (AP). - U.S.

President Jimmy Carter said on Friday that he did not beat the "killer rabbit." Nor was he attacked by the

The president tried to clear the air

after reports and rumours about the epic encounter between the Commander in Chief of U.S. Armed Forces and one panicky rabbit in a

Georgia pond during the president's bit who was swimming, apparently with no difficulty." Carter told reporters while walking through his hometown. He chased it away from his boat with a paddle after he realiz-fishing trip last April.

"It was a fairly robus

Carter's hare-raising tale climb in. "I determined this would be an unpleasant situation for me and the rabbit." the president said,

Landrovers mounted with teargas

dispensers, known as sneeze

In his speech, Botha declared:

Previously, Botha's National Par-ty has regarded blacks as foreigners allowed to live, temporarily, in white

urban areas only where their labour

was needed. Under this doctrine, blacks had rights, but only in rural homelands where they were

The stern-looking Botha was mobbed by a good-natured crowd of several thousand blacks following his speech. "He's too good a man.

said David Sosana, a truck driver.

Botha's speech was aimed as much at his right-wing critics as at the blacks he addressed. And his comments were certain to be regarded by conservatives as another concession to blacks that ultimately will lead to the integration of this racially-segregated nation. (Reuter.

Afrikaners will not keep him," asserted to have come from.

"We are all South Africans."

machines, and anti-rlot vehicles of their route.

On Thursday evening Carter said: 'I took the boat paddle and hit water. at the rabbit and he eventually and reluctantly turned away and went to the shore. The rabbit, I don't think, was trying to attack me," he said. adding that he did not think about the incident until he landed and a Secret Service agent asked what animal

"I said, 'it was a rabbit'," Carter said. "Immediately all my Georgia friends said rabbits don't awim. However, Carter said a blowup of an official White House photograph showed "it was plainly a rabbit." ed the rabbit was going to attempt to

140 New York banks robbed in August

The previous monthly record of 125

The 18,000-person force, down 7,000

were robbed. No police cars were at

MIAMI. - Killer hurricane David

Dominica and Puerto Rico last week, was still packing winds "Within 40 to 48 hours, if it goes on

In the Dominican Republic's

Charles Clore Park Rd. connecting Tel Aviv-Yafo

Tuesday RIVKA RAZ Songs from musical shows and films, with AND HIS GROUP

فيحذا من الأحوا

hoteu

Consolidation, not innovation

By BENNY MORRIS / Jerusalem Post Reporter

THE SCHOOL YEAR that starts this morning will mark a consolidation and expansion of novel themes and practices introduced last year rather than drastic innovations.

The current school-going population - including kinder-gartens and students in Institutions of higher learning numbers 1,163,00, or 35,000 more than last year. Of these 986,000 are Jews and 177,000 are Arabs and

After years of debate and vigorous propagation by Prof. Yosef Ben-Shlomo, chairman of the Pedagogical Secretariat, an experimental carly-reading project will be introduced in kindergartens in two development towns. This is the major innovation in the preschool system this year. All of Beit Shean's compulsory kindergarten pupils will be taught basic reading skills by specially trained elementary school teachers during the

A ''language enrichment'' programme will be given to all of Beit Shemesh's kindergarten pupils by their regular teachers during the afternoon hours, in an effort to prepare the children for the following year's "real" reading and writing lessons.

At the end of the year the Education Ministry will evaluate the two programmes and decide which, if any, will be introduced in kindergartens around the country. There are 230,000 children in precompulsory and compulsory kindergartens.

THE MAJOR development in the country's primary school system igrades one through six, and, in some schools, one through eight) has been the expansion of the long school day project to cover 600 classes this year, as compared to 80 last year. The ministry's intention to activate it in 1,200 classrooms, in preparation for its universal application within five years, was stymied by Finance Ministry budget cuts.

THE MAGAZINE section of The Jérusalem Post recently carried an article on "The Times" crossword. Tucked away in the second paragraph was the phrase, Times' is a symbol of England and part and parcel of its culture."

It was nice to see that "is," but one can't help feeling that wishful thinking lay behind the choice of tense. It is nine months since the paper suspended publication, and there are still no signs of a solution to its

The British have apparently become resigned to deprivations over the last few years: Fuller's wainut cake. Lyon's corner-houses and the Empire have disappeared -and the stiff upper lip has hardly trembled. "The Times," however, is a different infatter. As the man said, it's a symbol. Those who suffer most from the disappearance of "The Times" are the city commuters for whom the paper was as much a part of the uniform as the howlerhat the roller umbrella and the pin-striped suit. I travelled to London the morning after the shut-down; some of the commuters struggled with the rather earmest "Guardian"; other tried to cope with the unrelieved patriotism of the "Telegraph." But most simply stared gloomily into

Eventually, a small plump man atting in the corner said jovially:
"Well now, at last we can all talk to

THE PALESTINE POST

elementrary schools, though several hundred more pupils are bused every day to schools within the

Nine new junior high schools - the major creation of the school reform begun in 1969 — open their doors to-day, bringing the total number to

This year some 600 seventh-grade classes (about half the national total) will benefit from the Bnei Mitzva Jewish heritage enrichment programme, the non-compulsory alternative to Torah SheBe'al Pe (which many schools have cut from their curriculum because of a lack of interest by pupils and a shortage of people to teach it). The 80 classes which participated in the project last year will continue taking the course this year in eighth grade.

The ministry's Curriculum Division, headed by Dr. Shevah Eden, is introducing a renovated Toruh SheBe'al Pe course to "counter" the Bnei Mitzva programme, the brainchild of Dr. Danny Tropper, Hammer's religious aide charged with enhancing Jewish consciousness and learning in the school

The Curriculum Division has also introduced new courses or material in music and biology for junior high schools. An experimental textbook on Israeli history, 1914-48, will be published and tried out this year in funior high schools.

IN TERMS of curriculum, the major innovation in the secondary schools is the introduction as a compulsory subject of a 30-hour course on the Holocaust for grades 11 and 12. It will be taught as part of the Jewish History course.

Many of the country's high schools will offer a more strenuous physical education course than before. In response to the IDF's combat fitness department, hand-to-hand combat and swimming exercises will be included in the new course.

Director-General Eliezer Skmueli

Twelve Israeli high schools will this year offer Bagrut examinations in physical fitness. One high school, intends to offer a Bagrut exam in

About 100 pupils - twice as many as last year — will take Bagrut exams in music. A further 60 pupils will be permitted to submit project papers (avodot gemar) in music instead of sitting for the examination.

A basic reassessment of the Bagrut system is scheduled for this Autumn, after the public commission appointed by Hammer and chaired by Haifa University Rector Ozer Shild submits its findings on the matriculation exams later this month. The reassessment will be made in the first instance by the Pedagogical Secretariat, and the continuation or abolition of the system will then be decided upon by the minister in consultation with known to support the continuation of the Bagrut system with a certain degree of liberalization (more subiects of examination and more ways of being marked).

Some 50 12th graders from established schools in the centre of the country will spend this year in high schools in development towns as part of the Shelef programme. Now entering its fourth year, Shelef aims to bring together youngsters from Israel's long-settled population and youth from Kiryat Shmona, Hazor, Beit She'an, Migdal Ha'emek, Kiryat Malachim, Yeruham and

THE ARAB school system is still plagued by a shortage of classrooms. Various schools, in Bak'a El-Gharbieh, in Ktar Yassif and elsewhere are expected to remain shut today in protest against what the local authorities regard as government indifference to their plight."
But the director-general of the Education Ministry, Eliezer Shmueli, maintained last Wednesday that Arab education is practically the only area of the ministry's activities not subjected to budget cuts this year.

A new high school opens today near Ramle for Arab children from the Ramle and Lod area. Until now, high-school-age Arab children in the area studied in separate classes located in elementary schools. The new four-year school will offer both academic and vocational secondary education streams.

A fifth elementary school for Arab children opens this year in Haifa and two new elementary schools are to open in Umm-El-Fahm. Altogether there are 152,342 pupils in the Arab (Moslem and Christian) Arab school

In the Druse education system, the major innovation this year is the introduction of a new textbook on Druse history for high school history

EGGPLANT WITH A NOSE — Rackel Auerbach of Tel Aviv found an unusual eggplant at her local vegetable market. She added cucumber slices for eyes and teeth, and a sprig of dill for a: moustache, and showed it to photographer Lester Jay Milman.

Time to reflect

By MICHAEL NOLAN / Special to The Jerusalem Post

each other." The reply - a collective glare of such malevolence served only to drive him out of the compartment and into the corridor. where he stood for the rest of the Education Minister Hammer

The project will affect some 21,000

pupils concentrated in development

areas covered by Project Renewal

in line with a recommendation by the inter-ministerial committee on social affairs, chaired by Deputy Prime Minister Yigael Yadin).

Initially it will involve three to four extra hours a day four days a week.

Regular subjects and cultural

Hammer promised last Wednesday that, if present budgetary trends continue, the long school day will be introduced universally by the end of

LAST WEEK the ministry released figures about Jewish education in the Gaza district, the Golan Heights and Judea and Samaria. Almost 4,000 children are enrolled in 69 pre-compulsory kindergartens, 49 com-pulsory kindergartens and 26 curses will be taught during the ex-

Education Minister Zevulun

WHAT IS IT that the British are missing, these beleaguered people who find themselves, like Proust, à la recherche du temps perdu!

Well, they miss the writers, of course. Like Bernard Levin, scourge of lawyers, the post office and the National Front. He of the dry wit and the interminably long sentences (one article he wrote, in reply to the accusation that he was prejudiced 1,000-word-long sentence). Or cricket correspondent Alan Gibson, who once, when rain stopped play for a whole day at a county match, wrote a lengthy article about the discomfort he was enduring because he had forgotten to bring his pyjamas with him. It might have come from a war correspondent at the front.

This air of frivolity, which was one of the most endearing qualities of "The Times," was perhaps most noticeable in the letters page, itself a national institution. Although most of the correspondence came from men in the news and concernedmatters of national importance, the bottom right-hand corner was always reserved for subjects of less

There were letters about the sighting of the first cuckoo of the year, about the names of obscure villages (which brought the village, of Piddletrenthide, nestling on the hanks of a river called the Piddle, into the glare of public attention) and letters suggesting solutions to the crises of the day. When it was suggested that motorists in Britain the road, one correspondent wrote that, as this was bound to be confusing to some drivers, there should be a six-month transitional phase when people could drive on either side of the road. Then, during one of the Apollo moon voyages, there was a very worried letter from a woman who said she had looked at her diary for the date of the proposed landing and thought that someone ought to inform NASA that there was not going to be a moon at all that night.

Israel task force crosses Canal

EVERY YEAR there was a letter from a man who had compiled a list of the most popular names for babies born during the preceeding year. It was based on the names given in the "Births" section of the paper's personal columns. Top people who (in the words of its slogan) took "The Times," did so partly to discover from these columns which of their friends had got engaged, married, had a child or died. Hence, the cartoon in another paper which showed two old men in bowler hats standing in front of a billboard that read: "Times shutdown enters fourth month." One of them is saying, "Have you noticed that no one has died for ages." On St. Valentine's Day, the feast of the patron saint of lovers, the personal columns were swollen by expressions of ardour. Some were just plain silly: "Heffalump for breakfast, heffalump for tea, oh how I love my heffalump, does my hef-falump love me?" Others were at least single-minded. One man wrote in 1976, "Jane, Jane, Jane, Jane, Jane, Jane, Jane." The next year, with admirable originality, he wrote: "Jane, Jane, Jane, Jane, Jane, Jane, Jane, Jane."

The following day other papers would carry lists of the most popular terms of endearment used in the column: Pooh 20, Bear 19, Bunny 15,

I have used the past-tense throughout this article. I hope that my pessimism is unfounded and that before the first cuckoo of 1980 gives voice, thousands of executive working days will have been lost, as directors and managers rack their brains trying to solve "Times" crossword clues like: "Complaint you may get from an Irish tart." The answer, of course, is not hormones (whore moans) — "The Times" is a respectable paper — but an anagram of the DÂLIAT-AL-CARMEL. — Dr. Rivka Bar-Yosef, recently appointed Special Adviser on Women's Affairs to the Deputy Prime Minister's Office, visited here recently to hear Druse women talk about their problems and ambitions.

To her surprise, Dr. Bar-Yosef found that gone were the days when Druse women did little but tend children, watch the stove and serve coffee.
Of the 45 young women who met her at the house of Rada Kamal, the local WIZO secretary, all but fourwork outside and about half had completed high school. Dr. Bar-Yosef, who teaches at the Hebrew University, had been invited to meet with the Druse women by the local WIZO branch. "Our husbands have arrived at the conclusion that a woman who studies one who doesn't," one of them said. "Many of them today not only do not oppose the idea, but also encourage to go ahead. Unfortunately, not always do we have the necessary means to do so." The main obstacle, Dr. Bar-

Yosef learned, is not a husband's objection, but the lack of day-care centres in the village. Druse families are usually large; five, six or more children are not rare. Yet even in Dallat-al-Carmel, the country's biggest Druse village, there is only one pre-kindergarten for toddlers under three. "We need a place and people to look after the children while we work. Why not a creche by the plants, and operated by people hired by the plant, as in many other places? It would help a lot," they

Job opportunities have been plenty, they claimed, since a number of large Haifa firms have opened branches here. More than 500 of the village girls work at the Gibor, Elscint and Orna plants and more would last two words in the clue -arthritis. I follow, if places were provided.

Learning the facts

By MARY HIRSHFELD

Although somewhat limited by their lack of knowledge of Hebrew and English, they generally feel very good and are not denied opportunity for advancement. Salaries are low by Haifa standards - an average IL4,000 net a month for a 43-hour

AFTER WORK, their main activity has been the WIZO club, opened three years ago. Under the firm hand of Rada Kamai, the club has hundreds of registered members and offers weekly lectures and courses human relations. But this isn't enough. "We wish there were more courses for girls," they told Dr. Bar-Yosef "to provide us a wider choice of jobs." Although elemen-tary school in Daliat-al-Carmel has for years been co-educational, higher education is still separate, and most teachers at the ORT school are men teaching boys. With more women teachers, other girls' classes could be set up. Curiously enough, Dr. Bar-Yosef, on household management and

In the Federal Court of Australia

and the Druse women talked for more than an hour about progress and changing mores within the Druse community, but all the Druse were dressed traditionally, with long, heavy long-sleeved dresses or long-sleeved cotton blouses. All had long hair in plaits, falling over their shoulders, and none had a vestige of makeup. Shoes were the only sign of modernity; most wore high-heeled sandals.

"There is very little I can promise, and very little I can actually accomplish," Dr. Bar-Yosef told her audience at the end of the meeting. "The Public Committee on Women's Affairs, which I am setting up now. will be an advisory board, not an executive body. Still it is vital that we learn the facts so that the right word can be dropped in the right ear, and when called to help, we can present a plan as close to reality as possible."

Zankruptcy Act, 1966

General Division Bankruptcy District of the State of New South Wales and the Australian Capital Territory

No. P647 of 1979.

re: IGAL MAKLER Debtor Ex Parte: V.I.P. INSURANCES LIMITED (IN LIQUIDATION) Creditor

To: IGAL MAKLER of 29 Hamessila Street, Heralia, israel TAKE NOTICE that a Bankruptcy Petition was presented against you on the 11th day of May, 1979 by V.I.P. INSURANCES LIMITED (IN LIQUIDATION) a company duly incorporated under the Companies Act 1961 of the State of New South Wales whose registered office is at Wallace McMullin and Smail, Chartered Accountants, 52 Philip Street, Sydney, alleging a debt of $104,000.00. The Act of Bankruptcy alleged in the Petition is that you, within six (6) months before the presentation of the said Petition, with intent to defeat or delay your creditors—
(1) departed or remained out of Australia,

(1) departed or remained out or Australia.

(2) departed from your dwelling house or usual place of business.

(3) otherwise absented yourself.

On the 13th day of August, 1979 the Court ordered that: —

(1) leave be granted to serve the said Petition and all affidavits in support thereof outside the Commonwealth of Australia and in the State of Israel, (2) service of an official copy of the Petition together with copies of all af-fidavits filed in support of the said Petition, and a copy of the Court's Order dated 13th August, 1979 be deemed to be effective after the expiration of six (6) weeks from the date of posting the said documents to you by ordinary pre-paid airmail post, addressed to you at 29 Hamessila Street, Herzila.

That this advertisement be published in an English-language newspaper circulating at least in the City of Tel Aviv in the State of Israel within four (4) weeks from the date hereof That the hearing of the said Petition be stood over to the 22nd day of

(5) That the costs of this application be reserved.

The date fixed for the hearing of the Petition is the 22nd day of October, 1979, at 19.16 o'clock in the forenoon in the Federal Court of Australia, Law Court Building. Queens Square, Sydney, Australia. If you do not appear, the Court may, in your absence, make a Sequestration Order against you. The relevant documents may be inspected at the The Registry, Federal Court of Australia, General Division, 16th floor, Law Courts Building, Queens Square, Sydney, Australia.

Dated this 13th day of August, 1979.

Registrar

israel's turbulent 30 years of war and domestic development. The Jerusalem Post has had an international reputation for distinguished journalism.

Now, we are pleased to announce, in response to numerous requests, the publication of FRONT PAGE ISRAEL nearly 300 front pages of The Jerusalem Post from 1932 until today. Each front page is a revealing document of its times, expressed in its headlines - Herr Hitler new German Chancellor, Arabs and Jews both reject British Plan, Churchill at Helm, State of Israel is Born, Czeche to give Egypt Arms, right up to Smiling Sadet, Begin start talks.

This is the book that will be valued by every member of the family, for all time. By the children, looking at 'history.' By the student, in need of facts. By the parents saying, 'You remember that,' First edition now on sale.

(L350 (inc. VAT)

SOLE DISTRIBUTOR Steimatzky's

AVAILABLE IN HOTEL BOOKSHOPS & BETTER BOOKSHOPS EVERYWHERE OR SEND YOUR CHEQUE TO THE JERUSALEM POST. P.O.B. 81, JERUSALEM AND WE WILL SEND IT POST FREE (SURFACE MAIL) ANYWHERE IN THE WORLD:

----- copy/copies of Front Page Israel is enclosed (IL350 per copy)

FESTIVAL STAMPS 5740 (1979)

HEALTH RESORTS

50th ANNIVERSARY JEWISH AGENCY

DAY OF ISSUE: 4.9.1979

PHILATELIC SERVICES ( Jerusalem - Tel Aviv - Yafo - Haifa - Qiryat Shemona - Nahariyya -

Akko - Tiberias - Afuja - Netanya - Rehovot - Ashqelon -

Beer Sheva - Elat - Ben Gurion Airport and at post offices

CENTRAL OFFICE OF INFORMATION

WZQ-Students Division

Ministry of Foreign Affairs World Jewish Congress

The World Union of Jewish Students -WUJS

The 18th Triennial Congress

September 5 — September 11, 1979 Kiryat Moria, Jerusalem

"The Role of the Jewish Student Movement in the Survival of the Jewish People"

Leaders from the 44 National Jewish Student Organizations around the world that comprise WUJS will set policy, elect leaders, participate in discussions on oppressed Jewry. Zionism and its fulfilment in Israel, the fight against PLO propaganda, the role of Jewish Students in their community, Middle East Peace and its impact, and more.

The Congress opens on Wednesday, September 5 at 8.30 p.m. with an address by A. DULZIN, Chairman of the WZO.

out ly places you can ice you t fleet ig care

gentinas.

start

e true.

it knows ne true.

:ome

a carri

te the pu

are, rea

decision

busines

re people l'ultimate

/estigati

ets that h

s' com

Red as a b bid ma

club cont

a net gai 1370 for six

EAST

.Pass 2 & 2 ♥ 3 NT

as Drury

o diamon

ening was ention pre

he possibil

st made 10

ne multi-co

lost the ih at both

mation

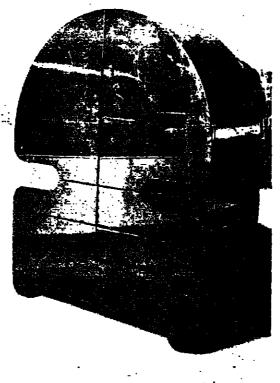

Glorious golden and white swimsuit (above) designed by PC, and made in Israel by Diva.

— the man (above) surrounded by his creations (note the Pagoda shoulders).

(Photos, Cardin) Men's wear (above) sketched and designed by PC himself.

PC coffee set bearing famous Maxim's label (left) and Cardin furniture of the: future (right). The multi-faceted world of Pierre Cardin

Clothes or cups, fabrics or furniture, it's all designed by the same man, writes Deborah Lewin, in an exclusive interview.

IN PARIS they told me that it was rumoured that before long Pierre Cardin would take over the Elysee Palace, now the residence of the President of France. The famous designer lives in a sumptuously furnished building overlooking the Palace's east side, while to the west stand the imposing buildings housing the brains and business heart of the Cardin empire. To the north is Cardin's latest venture a joint project with the famous restaurant. Maxim's, to market food products, crockery, cutlery and linens bearing the coat of arms of the most famous restaurant in the world. If the President thinks his southern flank is safe. then he's wrong, for Cardin's siege is nigh complete. Behind the Elysée is the Theatre Espace Cardin, a place for avant-garde performances - masked dancers from India. drummers from Japan, dancers from Broadway or such stars as Marlene Dietrich, Shirley Bassey and Renata Tebaldi.

Pierre Cardin looked much more comfortable than I did, perched on the edge of one of his pieces of way-out, startling furniture, which he designs in between planning collections of clothes for men, women, children and infants, acting the impresario at his theatre and launching another Maxim's shop. He told me that he finds furniture the most exciting of his design projects. His futuristic shapes are characteristic of the man who helped Dior launch the New Look. He has a revolutionary perception of everyday objects, everything that we wear or decorate our homes with, and now what we put on our tables. Cardin says he never has any problems conjuring up new ideas, whether in designing packaging for food, cigarettes, fabrics or even the interior of a jet airliner. Cardin was the first trendsetter to jump on the Chinese rickshaw, after Peking opened up to the West. In November, 1978, he wangled himself an official invitation on "a cultural mission," and the result will soon be trade relations between the Forbidden City and the House of Cardin. The designer considers with excitement the mind-boggling prospects of the vast Chinese market, and the idea of hundreds of millions of Chinese women wearing his creations. Their Japanese sisters and brothers are already among his best clientele today.

There is a league of interpreters of the enigmatic Cardin, who remains austere in dress and manner while at the heart of the glamour industry. They speak of the effect on the maestro of his three Chinese visits. as reflected in the pagoda-like shoulders of his latest clothes collection, and in his penchant for blue and green lacquer in his most recent furniture collection.

Cardin is one of the great post-war success stories. In 1978, he became the landlord of the building where he made his debut 33 years earlier. The son of a poor immigrant Italian, Cardin is at 56 the neighbour of the President of France and a Rothschild. He is a fanatically private person, keeping his personal life out of the public eye. The world knows about Pierre Cardin only what this most famous of taste-makers, allows to be known. He was a sickly child and at 14 started as apprentice in the clothing trade at St. Etienne, while he also fell in love with the theatre. A fortune-teller he met in a café predicted his future success, which prompted him to try his luck in Paris, where in 1945 he was hired by Paquin, one of the largest fashion houses. His gift of sewing came in handy, for the young Cardin helped do the costumes for Jean Cocteau's film "Beauty and the Beast."

Through that job, he met such great names as Cocteau, Jean Marais and Christian Bérard. After a spell with Schiaparelli, he switched to Lelong, where he met Christian Dior, whom he followed to Dior's own fashion house in 1946. Four years later, Cardin started on his own in the Rue Richepanse with five seamstresses. A year later, working 18 hours a day, Cardin was employing 60 women and had moved to the second floor of the fashionable Rue du Faubourg St. Honoré. Five years later, he occupied the entire building.

In 1959, Cardin gambled and won: he was the first to present high fashion for men, at a time when such an idea was regarded as effeminate. That same year, he shocked the high fashion world by opening a boutique of his products in the Printemps department store. In 1966, Cardin shook this country when presenting his "cosmonaut" style in a fashion show at the Israel Museum. Our staid establishment was shaken to the core by the sight of six mannequins and four male models jumping in between the art exhibits. This was his first contact with Israel. Later he awarded a licence to Bagir to produce his menswear. Cardin told me that he cancelled the concession because the Israeli side did not suit his conditions. Back home, I was told that political considerations were involved in the cancellation. However, Diva Ltd., Israeli manufacturers of beach and swimwear, produce Cardin swimwear here, for export. All the models are designed by Cardin and sent back to him for personal inspection.

The designer told me his formula for success is hard work. He has little time and patience for nightclubbing and other follies associated with the fashion world. "I was born lucky," he said, adding: "There are many with talent, but to reach the top you have to work hard even if you are lucky. I live for my work. If I have made it, it is because I work very hard.

"Once I wanted to be an actor, but I was very young at the time. (He played alongside Jeanne Moreau in a film, and they have since remained very close friends.) I have no wish to find myself playing a clothes-horse or a betrayed husband." Cardin said,

Is he a lonely person? "I live with my sister next door to Baron de Rothschild. I require solitude in order to create. Artists are made like that. But I am not lonely." He went on to tell me: "What I wear myself depends on what appointments I have that day. I like navy because it's smart. At home I wear a lot of jersey because it's comfortable, cashmere, aweaters and towelling robes. I like wearing dinner jackets too.

His declaration contrasts with his clothes -he was wearing an old navy blue biazer and flannel trousers. "Those are the clothes I wear when I move furniture around my house or office. I don't like an unchanging environment.'

His clients include the President of France and Madame Giscard d'Estaing, the wives of foreign envoys and senior Cabinet ministers. singer Johnny Halliday, ex-Beatle Ringo Starr. Rudolph Nureyev, and a big chunk of the jet set. Pierre Cardin's clothes, accessories, luxury gifts, furniture and furnishings sell on five continents through 350 franchises paying him rich royalties. Tens of thousands of workers in many lands make the 160 products bearing his name, carrying them into the far corners of the earth including Russia and China. Was he well past being a millionaire? Cardin was evasive, but did not say "No."

Fascination of Fashion

Razzle dazzle and hard bargaining - Fashion Week was a bit of both. Greer Fay Cashman made the rounds of the showrooms.

Judging the success of Fashion Week is difficult. One becomes aware of the extent of buyers' interest when one rides the elevator Finy Leiterdorf, doven of Israel's first thing in the morning in the company of a bevy of models who are all apologising to each other for not exchanging showroom visits because they are so busy working. The final sales figures are 50 per cent higher than those of last summer (which was outstandingly successful), taking inflation into account. What is gratifying, is the opinion of Suzanne Turower, London-based editor of the prestigious fashion publication "IM International." Turower, who formerly edited 'Fashion Weekly." and who has covered many Israel Fashion Weeks, says that Israel is now on a par with the best in the world. There's been a tremendous improvement in a short space of time."

:om

you

gent

natio

Press Association was on the spot to lend him the sum to make Mrs.

Sentiment is apparently a Dutch character trait. When Simon heard that Alaska's Export Manager Yochi Eshkar was celebrating her birthday, he ordered three birthday cakes to accommodate all the candles. Yochi, who used to work for the Israel Export Institute, always attends the traditional farewell party in the press room. She herself, had forgotten the date, and was genuine. ly surprised when the three cakes were wheeled into the room. The Jerusalem Hilton's Food and catering for Fashion Week events. The poolside party which he organized on the second night for buyers and manufacturers, was attended by more than 400 people, who couldn't be blamed if they cast all thoughts of beit-tightening to the winds. The array of meats, salads, desserts and drinks was pure paradise for gluttons, but Simkovics who is also somewhat of a showman was not content to leave it at that. Flame-lit bouquets of flowers and festoons of balloons floated in the pool. Twin projectors simultaneously screened two sub-titled films all night. Go-go dancers performed non-stop to a disco beat, and when the guests wanted to take over the portable dance floor, the go-go girls moved their perfor-mance to the roof overlooking the plaza adjacent to the pool. Charcoal steaks were still being broiled and served well after midnight.

Beverage Manager Stefan Simkovics gets a real kick out of

The most well-oiled operation runs the risk of snags due to the human element. The Judea Lounge at the Jerusalem Hilton is the scene of a cocktail hour fashion show once a week. As luck would have it, coordinator Beverly Crawford became ill during Fashion Week of all times. The Hilton's P.R., Director Frank Nothman approached some of the manufacturers to help him in his plight, but almost everyone was too busy to organize a show at such short notice. Beged Or's Guy Fulop came to the rescue, transporting his whole collection from the 20th to the ground

Verlaat happy.

NO SINGLE non-political, nonmilitary event in Israel derives as much media attention and coverage as Fashion Week. Television crews prowl the corridors between the showrooms; photographers trail after VIPs for whom special shows are staged; and journalists flit from showroom to showroom to press rooms in the quest for interesting titbits of information with which to regale their readers.

More than half the journalists are strictly speaking not fashion writers, nor are the photographers fashion specialists — but they are all at-tracted by the fascination of fashion.

Their main interest is in securing a ticket to the opening show, which for the most recent Israel Fashion Week Jerusalem was directed Israel TV director Yossi Tzemach of Eurovision fame. Fashion-Week organizers watching the rehearsals were pessimistic about the outcome. Tzemach's was a nerve-wracking exercise for models and pre-viewers. Tzemach himself was the only one who remained calm throughout - never raising his voice, and always polite when asking for any sequence to be rehearsed "just one more time." His perseverence paid off. The show was a hit, proved by enthusiastic sudience applause at frequent inter-

There were some people who objected to the slow-down of pace. Accustomed to the razzle-dazzle of disco-style fashion shows, they con-sidered that Tzemach, who had introduced a 'fifties rhythm, had regressed.

Yael Matalon, former Director of the Fashion and Textile Centre at the Israel Export Institute and currently Director of the IEI's Consumer Goods Division, later took a census of opinions from buyers, manufac-turers and press representatives. "People either loved it or hated it." she said. "There was no middle

"I thought it was super," said Ann Boyd of the London Sunday newspaper "The Observer." "We go to so many fashion shows, and we want to see the clothes, not the Folies Bergere, It was a great idea to make it slower so that we could really see

The two fashion houses which are invariably the key focus of Fashion Week are Gottex and Beged Or. All VIP tours for government and municipal leaders start with one or other in the sumptuous Hilton hotel suites which they have converted into temporary showrooms. Some of the smaller manufacturers complain at being by-passed in these tours. They feel some sense of discrimina-. tion, and claim that they could do with some more ministerial encouragement.

They shouldn't feel too badly, because Bagir, Israel's largest fashion exporter, is also overlooked. Bagir deliberately maintains a low profile, even though its exports exed the combined overseas sales of both Gottex and Beged Or. Bagir's exports during 1979 have increased by 59 per cent and the estimated total by the end of the year is $23m. Fashion Week sales were so successful that Bagir has ordered ahead for almost its entire production for 1980. The firm is part of the giant Polgat conglomerate.

At least one VIP visitor did her showroom touring without any pomp or ceremony. Rachel Dayan, wife of the Foreign Minister, was one of the earliest arrivals. Very few people recognized the elegant blonde standing in the Hilton lobby waiting for the elevator. She was on her way to Ero, where she buys most of her Actually, it's a minor miracle that Fashion Week came off the ground this season. Imported fabrics were held up in the customs sheds. The government crackdown on tax evasion includes a thorough check of raw material imports to see whether the price on the invoice corresponds with the quality of the goods, and as far as the fashion industry is con-cerned, whether anything has been smuggled underneath the outer layers of fabric. The owners of Gingette were near tears when they discovered that an expensive bolt of silk had been slashed right through one end. This meant that they had to change all their cutting techniques to conform with the reduced width. They were offered no compensation for the damage. Riki Ben Ari, who sold out her entire collection to KVD in Germany, had exactly one week in which to get it ready. Initially, she was unable to free her fabrics from the customs, in addition to which a government loan arrived three months late. The loan, when it finally arrived, covered the cost of customs duties and storage. "The government gave with one hand and took with the other," her son Ofer commented wryly.

An easing in South Africa's import restrictions may give Israeli fashion a wider exposure on the South African market. An important group of South African buyers representing chain of some 450 department stores, expressed keen interest in Sportlife and Lady Bagir. Quotas notwithstanding. South African buyers have in the past placed comparatively small orders in Israel because our styling was too way out for South African tastes. The South Africans prefer a tailored, uncluttered look which explains why they have been doing business with firms such as Aled, Dorina and Gideon Oberson. This also indicates why Lady Bagir is a natural for the South African market, and why the simply styled Sportlife collection is: also under consideration.

Incidentally, Shuki Levy, Sportlife's resident designer, this season turned his hand to knitwear design. He was responsible for a large segment of the Nirkam collection, the rest of which was designed by Shlomit Fenishel and Oded Gera. Oded and his wife Ella who are earning a reputation as fashion coordinators and fashion show organizers, are taking the collection to shows in Dusseldorf, London and Amsterdam. Rachel of Biba, who returned to Fashion Week after a long absence, had tremendous success with her appliqued tricot T-shirts; and Terra, who do a special line for Ted Lapidus in Paris, sold beyond their wildest expectations.

Fashion, like so many other things in Israel, is tinged with hutzpa. A best example of this is Mausner. Previously specialising in outsize fit-tings for the local market, Mausner year decided to try for export. The problem was that they didn't have an experienced designer. Former El Al air hostess Miri Porat. who had done a course in interior design, and had briefly studied pattern cutting under Raschel Afori, was employed to design a young. with-it collection — three weeks before fashion week. Buyers from Germany, France and Switzerland. including C & A representatives, did not detect Miri's lack of experience, nor did local buyers who told Shuki Mausner that they were thrilled about his new range.

Maytime, a new firm, made up of experts who had formerly worked for some seven or eight well es-tablished fashion houses, did not do as well as they had anticipated. Although their styling, fabrics and colours were up-to-date, foreign buyers did not beat a path to their door. Admittedly, they were stuck in a corner at the end of a corridor, but so were a dozen or more other manufacturers whose sales ranged from good to excellent. But what Maytime lost on the swings, they made on the roundabouts. Local buyers, already familiar with the firm, placed large orders, which means there is a good chance that Israeli women will be wearing Maytime in summer 1980.

Some years back, when Rikma's Rojy Ben Joseph introduced her dramatic ethnic collections, she established a fashion image which Israel has not been able to eradicate. Every season, there are buyers and foreign fashlon writers who come here specifically in search of ethnic creations. While Roly still has a suggestion of ethnic, and Ero this season introduced an ethnic print, by and large ethnic is out - except at Maskit which on this occasion did not participate in Fashion Week. To make up for the absence, visiting journalists from abroad were hosted at a luncheon in Maskit's picturesque Jerusalem premises and given a grand tour of the Judaica exhibition, the hand-woven carpet display, the silver and gold jewelry departments - and of course the fashion — both ethnic and otherwise. They raved over the embroidery and silk screen prints, and were enraptured by a soft wool coat designed by fashion designers. Two of the journalists would have bought the coat there and then, but for the price tag: IL5,500 was prohibitive even in foreign currency. The Israeli woman who last winter paid between IL1,500 and IL2.500 for a winter coat, is que for a shock when the cold season sets in. German journalists purchased several gift items to take home with them, and Simon Verlaat representing the Dutch fashion magazine, 'Elegance,'' fell in love with a Yemenite silver filigree bracelet which he wanted to buy for his wife. Unfortunately, he didn't have enough money with him. Luckily, a sentimental fellow Dutch journalist Roelie Meyer of the Netherlands

Lufthansa Fight to Frankfurt

Leaves Tel Aviv every afternoon at 15.50 after the morning departure rush. Flies nonstop to Frankfurt and arrives in time to give you excellent european and intercontinental connecting flights. It certainly gets you there in time for a pleasant evening before starting tomorrows business.

For further information and bookings contact your I.A.T.A. Travel Agent, your Cargo Agent or Lufthansa.

Lufthansa

HIS MEN'S tolletries and clothing line are produced in Paris, but his heart and home are in Israel. Meanwhile the image of masculinity which Jacques Konquier conveys in his "Bogart" range of men's tolletries is sold in 40 countries around the world, including Saudi Arabia and Israel. Born in Haifa 38 years ago, and taken to France by his parents at the age of three, Konquier adopted the name of the film star for himself, following the success of his men's cologne. Four years ago, the curlyhaired Sabra with the breezy. hevramen manner, launched the Bogart tolletry articles for men at Bloomingdales, the New York department store. One of his thrilling moments on that occasion. Bogari relates, was his meeting with Lauren Bacall, to whom he presented the line named for her husband, as a gift to their two sons. It's a lovely tribute to Bogsy, she told the manufacturer.

As exciting as the meeting with the film star, the French Jewish businessman reports, was the surprising success of his products in the American market. His Israel distributor, Zvi Kliffer, claims Bogart ranks in popularity among the top men's cologues in France and has been gaining a following among Israell men steadily here since it was introduced in 1976.

Does Bogart have a nose (the term used in the trade for discerning perlume scents:? Must have, he laughs, or at least, he admits, he has what is necessary for saifting out a good business. Like his father sixt grandfather, who was in the men's conture line before emering the construction industry.

Bogart bottled

Diana Lerner talks to the man who put Bogey into men's toiletries.

Bogary had been producing a line of high priced men's clothing. Then, one day, he decided he would try something more creative, he relates. Fragrance requires creating an image and doing something unique, unlike couture where to be in fashion you have to follow a trend of what everyone cise is doing.

The Sogart line includes cologne. together, he says. depoterant, shaving cream, after shave, shampoos and hair

His men's leather accessories also have world-wide distribution excluding this country.

Most perfumes in the world, he says, emerge out of women's fashion houses; he cites Dior, Lanvin, Schiaparelli, Halston, Bogart is proud his own came from a men's clothing line.

His success is also a matter of men's liberation, he believes. Men are becoming as conscious as women about body fragrance and the care of their skins. High time,

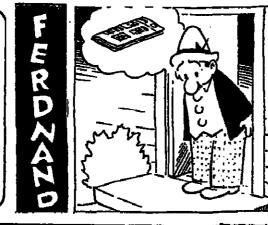

While his business requires him to keep trotting the globe, the strongly committed Jewish businessman cherishes the time he spends in Israel. In 1962, Bogart, a paratrooper, spent 21/2 years doing his military service at a Nahal settlement, Kibbutz Beit Shita. There he met Regine, a fellow Mahal volunteer from France, who later became his wife.

The family spends summers at their Caesarea villa, and their children speak Hebrew at home.

Besides a penchant for business Bogart is an avid sportsman and photography buff. On his visit here, a year ago, he learned to play golf and on his return to France became a sponsor of the French golf team. Now passionate about this new hobby, he was proud last week that his team came second in an important golf tournament. The Caesarea golf course is another attraction drawing Bogart to Israel whenever he can take a break from his business. Sports and business go very well treatments - a total of 30 products. Today is edited by Joanna Yehiel

Jerusalem -

SITUATIONS VACANT

SIGN PAINTER, graphic artist to draw car toons. Tel. 03-415324.

SALESWOMAN, EXPERIENCED ladies

ready to wear, good salary, full time, basic Hebrew. Salon Edith, 15 Herzl St. Netanya.

TRAVEL AGENCY seeks fluent English

typist/secretary for the incoming department, split days. Tel. 03-294654 Benni.

VEHICLES

fictrifizhennierniaennaentzeldelenetajeenizhniaghinationaldialdiale

PASSPORT TO PASSPORT. Peugeot sta-tion 304, 1976, 85,000kms. excellent condi-tion, with radio, for sale. IL200,000. Phone

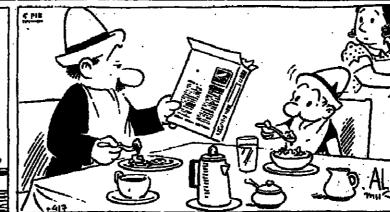

PASSPORT TO PASSPORT Volkswager 411, 71, Tel. 053-37131 (room 604).

VOLVO 144, safe, comfortable, family car. Wonderful condition. Urgent passport sale. Mike, Tel. 053-39372, 8.30 a.m.-12.30 p.m.

B.M.W. 316, 1978, perfect condition, 34,000km.. radio-cassette, passport. Tel. 02-

524619, 02-533113/4, Susan.

CLASSIFIEDS

DEADLINES Jerusalem: Weekdays: 10 a.m. of day prior to publication. For Friday's paper: 5 p.m. on Wednesday. For Sunday's paper: 3 p.m. on Thursday, Tel Aviv and Haifa: Weekdays and Friday: 12 noon, two days prior to publication. For Sunday's paper: 12 noon Thursday.

Ads are accepted at all offices of The Jerusalem Post (for addresses see masthead on back page) and at all recognized advertising agencies. Weekday rates: Minimum charge of IL152.00 for eight words; IL19,00 for each additional word. Friday and holiday eve rates: Minimum charge of IL216.20 for eight words: IL26.90 for each additional word. All rates include VAT.

PERSONAL

WHERE TO DINE

KOSHER dairy and meat meals at STEVE GOTTFRIED, please leave address reasonable prices. Balfour Cellar, Halfa, for grandfather at 02-524892. Tel. 04-662219, 04-663300. ATTALITATION OF THE PROPERTY O

WHERE TO STAY PURCHASE/SALE

TOURISTS! HERZLIYA PITUAH!! Two LEAVING THE COUNTRY, imported room house, fully furnished, short/long quality furniture and appliances. Private term. Tel. 03-932834. FABULOUS AKAI stereo system, sewing machines. Tel. 02-524619, 02-583113/4. Susan.

DWELLINGS

JERUSALEM

RAMAT ESHKOL, 3%, phone, heating, long term. Tel: 02-815642; evenings.

4 rooms; Bizaron: 2½ rooms plus; Rem brandi: 1½; also many rentals, Tel. 03-225370, evening 03-234933.

BEN YEHUDA near Jabotinsky, 11/2 + dinette, on pillars + phone. Tel. 08-224719.

NOBIL-GREENBERG RENTALS. Furnished/unfurnished, long/short term, Ussishkin 2, Tel. 053-28735, 053-32558. ACTEMBLE DE L'UTERNI DE L'ORGENT DE LE CONTRE LE LES DE LES DE L'ARREST DE L'A ուսուսուսության անագրագրության անագրան BEFORE RENEWING household,

ENTERTAINMENT

TELEVISION

EDUCATIONAL: 8.10 English 5. 8.30 Language and Communication 3-5. 9.00 English 8. 9.20 Math. Geometry 6. 9.40 Programme for kindergarteners 10.10 Literary selections 10.80 Math. Geometry 5: 11.10 Aigebra Goometry 8. 11.30 Geography 6 12.00 English 9. 12.20 Literature 7-9. 12.40 Biology 9-10. 13.00 English 10, 13.20 History — Athens 16.00 Talpitput 16.25 Explorers and discoveries 17.00 Open Circle education magazin CHILDREN'S PROGRAMMES: 17,30 The Six Million Dollar Man. Starring Lec Majors

ARABIC-LANGUAGE programmes:

18.30 News roundup

18.32 Disco 19.00 News and weekly magazine HEBREW PROGRAMMES resume at 20 00 with Open House Family Magazine 20.30 Another Hit – popular songs 21.00 Mabat newsreel

21.35 Second Look - news, background, analysis 22.05 Charlie's Angels: Angels on Air. Starring Kate Jackson, Jaclyn Smith and Cheryl Ladd 22.55 The Short Film — fifth of six programmes of short Israell films 23.40 Almost Midnight -- news

17.10 Cartoons, 18.00 Big Blue Marble 18.30 French Hour, 18.40 (JTV 3 only). Little House on the Prairie. 19.00 News in French. 19.30 News in Hebrew. 19.45 Music Box. 20.30 Taxi. 21.10 Face Values. 22.00 News in English. 22.15 Streets of San Fran-

ON THE AIR

First Programme

7.07 Gassmann: Artists' Love Over-ture; Fuchs: Symphony for Flute.' Oboc, Bassoon and Basso Continuo; Bochas: Bolero for Harp and Orchestra (Lili Laskine); Milhaud: Folk tunes for Cello and Orchestra; L. Mozart: The Toy Symphony 8.05 (steres): Hummel: Septet in C Major, Op. 114, Grand Military; Schubert: Prayer for Vocal Quartet and Piano; Brahms: Piano Concerto No.2 (Alfred Brendel); De Falla: Nights in the Gardens of Spain 19.05 Radio story 10.15 Elementary School Broadcasts 10.40 Education for all — Electronic Communication 11.15 (stereo): Elementary School

11.35 Tunes from the Distant Past 12.05 (stereu) Cilia Grossmeyer, soprano; Alexander Tamir. plano — Schuberi; Seven Lieder; Four French Chansons; Liezt; 2 Songs; 13.00 (stereo): Opera selections (no details available; 14.10 Children's programmes 15.25 Speaker's Podium — with Prof.

15.55 Notes from a new book 16.05 (stereo): Sunday Concert — Victoria: Requiem; Mozart: Mass in C Major, K. 167: Stravinsky: Mass for Children's Choir (Betnstein) 17.45 Programmes for Olim

20.05 Spotlight on Contemporary Artists — Boris Berman 21.00 Everyman's University 21.30 Reflections on the portion of the week with Prof. Yeshayahu

22.05 (sterce). The Haifa Symphony Orchestra, Youl Levy con with Liora Ziv-Li. plano: David Shaan, cello — Beethoven: Prometheus Overture Op.43; Plano Concerio No.3 in C Minor, Op. 37; Tehzikovsky: Roccoco variations for celio; Prokofiev; Symphony in D Major, Op.25. Classical; The Haifa major, Up.25. Classical; The Haifa Symphony Orchestra, Dan Vogel, onducting — Shlome Jalfe: Cant. a, with Adi Etzion, soprano; Asher Heinovitz, tenor: Grisha Borodi, basse: Han, Toren.-hisration, the Haifa Madrigal Bingers and members of the Knobuts Haiarian Choir, directed by Heit Zadamanah Choir, directed by Uzit Zadruyevich

NEWS COMMENTARY Second Programme: Following the news at 7 a.m. 1 p.m. and 7 p.m. Army Badio: Following the 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. news and at 11.40 p.m.

2nd Programme

7.00 This Morning — news magazine 8.10 Good Morning — songs, chat 10 45 Travis McGcc — radio thriller

13.05 Midday - news commentary, 14.10 Stage and Screen - songs from creen musicals

15.05 Nostalgic sough 16.10 Direct Line -- Press conference 17.10 Horror story series 18.05 Weekly Cinema magazine 18.36 Sports magazine 18.48 Bible Reading — Daniel 1, 2 19.00 Today — People and events in the news 20.10 Middle East Crossroads 21.05 Light music for wind ensembles 23.05 Contemporar; Balachic issues 23.05 Beautiful Land (repeat)

VOICE OF AMERICA NEWS SHOWS

1259 kiloHertz. 5-6 and 8-8.30 a.m. - Daily breakfast scow with news, popular music and interviews. 11-12 p.m - News, analysis and topical reports.

6-8.30 a.t. . Daily breakfast show. . 9-10 p.m. - VOA magazine, with Americana, science and cultural news, roundup of news.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE SELECTIONS

7.15 Fourth. Fifth: 19 545 including review of Hebrew press 14.30 (Fourth, Fifth) 30 min. 18.05 (Fourth: 5 min. 20.15 (Fourth: 15 min 22.30 (Fifth) 25 min 24.00 (Fifth) 30 min Rungarias 19.15 (Fifth) 15 min.

nanisa 6.30, 19.45 (First) Bussian 6.20 (First) 19.15 (First. Georgian 6.10 (First), $2.15 (First, V 26 00 Find 26 00 Find

·1-F15155 Mograbi 6.40 (First), 19.45 (First Fifth) Bukharian 6.05 (First)

EASY REBREW REOADCASTS 15 minutes of news and features twice daily. First Programme -- 11.35 a.m.

Army

7.07 On Drivers and Traffic: reports from police positions, features on transportation, quizzes, tours of the 8.05 IDF morning newereel 9.05 Israeli Summer — two hours of music, talk and news flashes with Eli

13.05 With Love -- special regards and surprises

14 05 Weekly sports magazine 16.05 Special Requests - MKs answer soldiers' questions 19.05 Rock Music of the 70s 21.00 Mabat - radio transmission of the TV newsreel 21.35 Hebrew songs

22.05 Soldiers' Discussion — with IDF Artiliery soldiers 00.05 Night Birds - songs, chat -

	AM I	LOCATION  n kiloHertz  Megatioru  let Pro- gruntme	- · E Central
Inraol	AM:	576	656	. 1
	FM:	91.3	P5.5	.
J'œ
area.	AM:	576	656	- 1
		1169	710	i
	FM:	91.3	95.5	ì
Haife
area	AM:	575	1205	- 1
B'shebs	FM:	59.4	103.2
S.FR.	.524	575	656	- 1
	FM:	68.8	103.8	- (
Sated				- 1
area.	W.	575	845
	FM:	90,9	. 101'1

and Programme -- short wave and FM and MHr 4th Programme -- 737 kHz; Jerusalem ates 674; central bracel 1025

1322 KrioHertz: Overseas Service newsreels at 14.00, 17.60 and 20.15

News in English 14.00 (Fourth, Fifth)

20.00 (Fourth) • 22.00 (Fifth: 4

• Fifth programme: Short wave and FM 88.2 MHz

Jerusalem area 674; central israel

Almost Sommer, Maxim: Midnight Express: 745, 230; The Mets, 4.30.

JERUSALEM 4, 7, 9 Eden: Professional on Wheels: Edison: Moonraker: Habirah: The Magnificent 7: 4, 6.45, 9: Kfir: International Velvet; 4, 6.45, 9; Mitchell: Get Out Your Handkerchiefs: 7, 9 Wed. also at 4: Orgil: Going Steady; 4, 6. S; Orlon: High Ballin'; Orna: Magic: Ron: The Decr Hunter: Semadar: Providence: 7, 9.15; Small Auditorium Binyenel Ha'coma: Dona Flor and Her Two Husbands; 7. 9; Israel Museum: Eva: 8, 8,30; Cheena

CINEMAS

1: Macbeth; 6.45, 9.15

Allenby: The Warriors; Ben Yehuda: See How She Runs; Chen: They Call-ed Him Bulldozer: Cinems 1: Van Nuvs Boulevard: Cinema 2: Coming Home; Dekei: The China Syndrome; 7. 9.30: Drive-in Cinema: Island at the Top of the World; 7.15: Esther: The Dog: Gat: Tigers in Lipstick: Gordon: Spider-Man Strikes Back: Hod: Escape to Athens: Limor:

Mograbl: The ites: Hunter: 5, 8.30. Onbir: The Cham bandrome, 4.30, 7. 9.30; Orly: Movie Movie. Paris: Wedding: 10, 12, 2.15, 4.30, 7.15, 9.30; Peer: Agatha: Ramat Aviv: Autumn Sonata: 7.15, 9-30; Boyal: Stewardess of Copenhages, 10, 12, 2; La Cage Aux Folles, 7,30, 9,30; Shahaff: Going Steady, Studie: Wite Mistress: Semadar: Hester Street: 7 9.15; Tchelet: Days of Heaven; Tel Aviv: Moonraker: Tel Aviv Museum: These Wongerful Men alth the Crank: Zafon: Get Out You;

HAIFA 4, 6.45, 9 Amphitheatre: Encape to Atness: 4, Amphitheatre: Encape to Alucius: 4, 8.45, 9; Armon: Manarake: 4, 5.30, 3; Atamon: Breakthrough 4, 6.45, 9; Chen: Duna Flo nad her Two Husbands, 4, 6.45, 4, Galor: Savage, 10, 2, 7; Lipstick: 12, 4, 9; Ordan: West Side Stery; 3, 50, 6.30, 9; Orah: The Deer Funter: 4, 8; Orlon: Island of a Thousand Denghts. 6 nonston perfs. Orly: Same Time Next Year; 645, 9; Pollyanna; 5.30, Fr.. Peer;

International Velvet; 4, 6.30, 9; Ren: Going Steady: Shavit: Agatha; 6.45,

RAMAT GAN

Armon Heaven Can Wait, 4, 7.15, 9.30: Hadar: A Different Story; 7.15, 9.30; Lily: See How She Runs; Oasis: National Lampoon; Animal House; 4, 7 15, 9.30; Orden: Going Steady; 7.18, 0.30: Rama: Coming Home: 7.15. 9.30, Mon. Wed. also at 4.30; Ramai Gan: Midnight Express: 7, 9,30.

Migdal: Midnight Express

PERZIJYA David: Foul Play; 4, 7, 9.30; Tiferet: The Boys from Brazil; 7.15, 9.15,

PETAH TIKVA Shalom: Going Steady; Sun., Mon., Wed., Thur. 7.15, 9.15, Sat. 7.30, 9.30,

Tues. 9.30 only. Sun., Tues., Wed., Thur., 4: The Zivani Family: Mon.

NETANYA Esther: Going Steady.

TWO-IN-ONE CROSSWORD

ACROSS
3 Take off for trips, maybe (5)
2 Such candles don't burn for a Sum cannies don't burn for long (5)

19 Four-footed (ensule (5)

11 He wants a ring for the stone, friend (3)

12 Time is not on your sade (5)

13 The success of little boy blue (7) 15 Great man who got the tenswer in advance (5) 18 Listener in tens (3)

Tread on a rope's end that's pasm (s) 21 How you look when you ask for the came, possibly? (7) 22 Competent to do anything

half workshie (4)
21 A stop-gap advertisement? (4)
24 Sailor I'd alarm by disturbing him (7)
26 Clothes not worn by the greats? (6)
25 It's taken from place to place

36 Wonderful soldier in a raintoat (5)

37 Alfred Anson's girl (5)

38 Town rebuilt from some of the ruins of Alines? (5)

39 Down
1 At best, I get 100 and it's assmething to talk about (5)
2 Islander and master steelworker (7)
4 Very little, but a fortune to Des! (4)
5 Prisoner lan met, possibly
6 A name in poin, we hear (5)

20 Manage to break one's dark

21 The latest to a possible distributed for a honge break one's dark

4 Ingle Prisoner (7)

25 Prisoner lan met, possibly
6 A name in poin, we hear (5)

26 A name in poin, we hear (5)

27 The latest to a possible distributed for a honge break one's dark

28 Possible of the states o

25 It's taken from passes
(3)
21 Points tie, metal ones) (5)
22 Ace turn, possibly, by a fabulous horseman (7)
24 Army man's river (5)
25 He's smoong the loneliest of men (2)
36 Wonderful soldier in a raintout of a hinge treaking to the stable?

EASY PUZZLE ACROSS DOWN 1 Discoluur (5) 2 Expressed contempt (7) 4 Provide susta 3 Pollowing 151 8 Had smell (5) 10 Entrances (5) alice (4) 5 Decrees (6) 6 Helicopter blade colint (5)
13 Compared (7)
15 Tidies hair (5)
18 Edge (3)
19 Thoroughfare (6)
21 Says again (7)
22 Noisy (4)
23 Strike (4)
24 Removes packaging (7) (5)
7 Race of people
(5)
8 Amoy (3)
12 Debases (7) Debuses (7) Pinch (3)

-19 Tales (7)
28 Change (5)
21 Corrodes (5)
22 Talizer (7)
24 Bear-Mic (6)
25 Limb (3)
27 Not once (5)
28 Americae (5)
30 Outdoor shelters (5) (5) 32 Manufactures again (7)
34 Conveds (5)
35 Family (3)
36 Number (5)
37 Profundity (5)
38 Staggers (5) 32 Genuine (4) 33 Sierp, glang (3)

ACROSS. - D. Straight, 10, Hoc. 11, Amerit, 12, Fillib, 13, Taporred, 14, Ever. 15, Debutations. 17, Tractions, 18, Mandate. 19, Fall. 21, Tvenda 24, Personal secretary, 27, Carden, 29, Fale 30, Thrills, 33, Esteemed, 25, Woodpigron 36, Stud, 37, Nullity 38, Effect, 40, Canada, 41, Ass. 42, Open fire,

Friday's Easy Solution

Def: (4)

5 Prisoner Iam met, possibly
(6)

5 A name in poin, we hear (5)

7 In the best position to look down (2,3)

9 A worn machine part (3)

12 What the messenger boy more than ran? (7)

14 Durable stuff used in closks
(3)

15 It brewed from ten-leaves
(3)

16 Packs, 16, Down, 2, 2, Arbeids, 3, Berrander, 4, Beston, 5, Wilhelmiga, 7, Chill-1, 8, Clistans, 18, Berret, 10, Hopes, 10, Packs, 16, Down, 22, Arbeids, 23, Asset, 22, Contain cut short (4)

16 Cond for you 28, Arbeids, 3, Berret, 16, Ordered, 20, Asset, 22, Contain cut short (4)

17 Durable stuff used in closks
(3)

18 Admit via an inlet (3,2)

19 Award 18, Down, — 1, Coing along, 4, Beardon, 5, Wilhelmiga, 7, Chill-1, 8, Clistans, 18, Berret, 10, Hopes, 10, Asset, 22, Contain cut short (4)

20 Curtain cut short (4)

21 Is it brewed from ten-leaves
(3)

22 Affariet, 4, Beardon, 5, Berret, 10, Hopes, 10, Ordered, 20, Asset, 22, To-leave, 10, Hopes, 10, Asset, 22, Follow and 28, Alastian, 31, Hamberd, 32, Alastian, 31, Hamberd, 32, Alastian, 31, Hamberd, 32, Alastian, 32, Hamberd, 32, Alastian, 32, Hamberd, 33, Mariander, 34, Berret, 36, Berret, 37, Berret, 37, Berret, 37, Berret, 37, Berret, 37, Berret, 37, Berret,

SOLUTIONS TO TODAY'S PUZZLE TOMORROW

CONDUCTED TOURS

Israel Museum. Exhibitions: Cloth Pictures by Taniar Estan. Children at play in Jerusalem: sculptor working mainty in wood. Valerio Adami, Paintings, Large canvasses by one of Italy's best known contemporary painters.

Coins of the Procurators of Judea. Gift in honour of Miss Marion B. Savin of Plymouth Meeting, Pennsylvania. U.S.A. Turner and the Sible. Colour at the Youth

Wing. Selection from the Dept. of Art Photography. New Buildings in Old Environments. Display of Mexican Coins. Nash Old Masters Gallery — Special

Display. Art in Palestine in the 19th Century. From Still Life to Object. Yochoved

Weinfeld: Forms of Visual Images. Words

in Freedom. Neolithic Figurines from Shaar Hagolan. Exhibit of the month: Outdoor Wraps of Baghdadi Jewemes. Silk

with gold or sliver weave. Gift of the Kadouri and Louise Zilkha family.

Statue of an Ibia, encasing the mummy of the sacred bird. Egypt, 8th century. B.C.E. wood and bronze. Presented by Mr. Anwar Sadat. President of Egypt, to Prof. Yigaul Yadin, Deputy Prime Minister of Israel, on his recent visit to Egypt. Rockefeller Masseum: Exhibit of the month: Rare bronze vessels from a

Parsian period tomb, beg. 5th century B.C.E. Special exhibition: Islamic Arts,

Visiting Hours — Israel Museum: Sun, Mon. Wed., Thurs. 10 a.m.-5 p.m.: Tue. 4-10 p.m.: Fri. 10 a.m.-2 p.m. Sat: 10 a.m.-2 p.m. Shrine of the Book, Billy Rose Art Garden: Sun . Mon . Wed., Thur. 10 a.m.-5 p.m. The. 10 a.m.-10 p.m.; Fri. and Sat. 10 a.m. 2 p.m. Bockefeller Museum: Sun-Thur. 10 a.m. 2 p.m.; Pri., Sat. 10 a.m. 2 p.m. Tickets for Sat. and holidays must be

Klaim or major Jerusalem hotels, in Tel Aviv at Rococo Hadran and Kasiel. Free guided tours in English, at the Israel Museum only. Sun., Wed., Thurs., 11.00 a.m., Tues. 4.30 p.m. from upper entrance

Medical Centre, in Kiryat Hadassah.
 Tours in English at 9, 10, 11 a.m. and 12 noon. leaving from the Kennedy Building.

Tour includes Chagall Windows. No charge On Friday tours begin at 8 a.m. --

by appointment only. Tel. 41633.

5. The Hadassah Synagogue — Chagail Windows — open to the public from 1.30-6.00 p.m. Sunday-Thursday. Buses 19 and

3. Mt. Scopus Hospital: Tours from 8.30 to 12.30 p.m. No charge. Buses 9 and 28. Tel.

projects. $5 per person towards transpor-tation. By reservation only: Tel. 416333 Hebrew University, tours in English at 9 and 11 a.m. from Administration Building.

Mount Scopus tours 11.00 a.m. from the Reception Catire Administration Building, Busis 9 and 28 to last stop. Further details: Tel. 882819. Emunsa — National Religious Women's Organization, Tourist Centre, 28 Rehov Ben Malmon. Yei, 02-662468, 630620, 811588.

Givat Ram Campus. Buses 9 and 28.

Notices in this leature are charged at 11.85 per line metuding VAT: insertion every day costs IL1,120 including VAT, per month. Copy accepted at offices of The Jerusalem Post and all recognized advertising agents.

American Mizrachi Wemen, Free Morning Tours — 198 Keran Rayesso Street,

Jerusalem, Tel. 282758. MISCELLANEOUS : Plant a Tree with your Own Hands with the Jevish National Fund and visit the tamous Stalactite Cave every Sunday mor-sing. For details and reservations please call: 02-535261, ext. 12 or 03-234449. Jerutziem Biblical Zoo, Schneller Wood, Romema. Tel 818822, 7.30 a.m. - 7 p.m.

Tel Aviv

MUSEUMS MUSEUMS
Tel Aviv Museum, Scierce Shaul
Hamelech Exhibitions Maryan 19771977, Behruspective, David Hockney — The Blue Gutter Exchings 1978/77. New acquisitions, 20th century painting, sculpture, drawing, Israel Photography, Work by pupils of the Museum workshops. Helena Rubinatein Pavilion — "There is something in it, after all" — exhibition-workshop on buildings in Tel Aviv.

Visiting hours: Sun. - Thur. 10 a.m. 10 p.m Fri. 10 a.m. 2 p.m. Sat. 7-11 p.m. Sat. morning, 10 a.m.-1 p.m. FREE. Helena Rubinstein Pavilion: Sun. - Thur. 9 a.m.-1 p.m.: 47 p.m. Fri. 9 a.m.-1p.m. Sat. clos-Beth Hatefulsoth, Jewish life in the Diaspora, past and present, presented through the most modern graphic and audio-visual techniques available: slide shows, mini-cinemas, audio visual dis plays. video-booths, computer terminals, etc. Visiting hours; Sun., Mon., Thur., 16 a.m.-b p.m. Tues., Wed., 8 p.m.-10 p.m., Fri. closed, Sat. 10 a.m. 2 p. m. Children under 6 are not admitted. Both Hatefutsoth is located on the Tel Aviy University cam-pus (Gate 2) Rehov Klausner, Ramat Aviv. Buses: 18, 24, 25, 27, 49, 74, 78, 572. CONDUCTED TOURS

Emunah -- National Religious Women. 166 Ibn Gabirol. Tel. 440816, 788942, 708440. OET Israel: For visits please contact. ORT Tel Aviv. Tel. 232231, 762291-2; ORT Jerusalem, Tul. 533141; ORT Netanya.

Piant a Tree With Your Own Hands, with the Jewish National Fund every Tuesday morning. For details and reservations call 03-284449 or 02-685261, ext. 13.

Hadssah Tourism Office, Room 504.

Halfa Museum, National Maritime, Tel. 536622. Megal Immigration, Tel. 536249. Japanese Art, Tel. 83554. Mane Kata. Tel. 83482. Dagon Grain Collection, Tel. 684221. Music, Tel 644485. Artists! House. Tel.

MISCELLANEOUS Badassah Tourism Office, Visit Ramat Hadassah Szold. Phone 04-664878, 81218.

GENERAL ASSISTANCE

EMERGENCY PHARMACIES

Jerusalom: Jerusalem, 212 Yrío, 526215, Tazziz, Khan El Zelt St., 282040. Tel Aviv: Yani, 67 Ychuda Haicvi, 612474. Holon: Dr. Houri, 70 Sokolow, 842433. Bat Yam: Gaoc Bat Tam. 3 Hanev. 12, 865671. Ramai Gan: Taipiot. 30 Abba Hillel. 783054 Bnel Brak: Stapiro. 80 Rabbi Akiva. 781854. Netanya Hadassah. 24 Herzi. 22243. Rishon: Tzei Akonim. 58 Hagdud Haivri. 941835. Haders: Hanckaz, 73 Worzeren, 2013) Halfu: Massada, 20 Massada, 566806. Beteribbb: Brui, 72 Rezzi, 7869.

DUTY HOSPITALS

Jorosalem: Hadassah /pediatrics, sur gery, orthopedies, ophthalmology. E.N.T.). Share Zedek (internal Tel Aviv: Rokah (pediatries, internal, surgery). Netanya: Laniado (obstetrica, internal). Haife! Rambum

Eran" - Mental Health First Aid, Tel. Jerusalem 669911, Tel Aviv 253311, Halfa 538888. Beersheba 32211, Netanya 35316. Misgav Ladach: Open ilne 4-6 p.m. every Monday answers to obstetrics. gynaecological, sterility and family planung problems Tel. 02-833356.

open from 8 p.m. to 7 a.m. Emergency home calls by doctors at fixed rates. Sick Fund members should enquire about one numbers: Jerusalam Bel Aviv 781111 Ashdod 22221 Ashkeigh 23333 Nazaroth beff: Notative 2000 Petah Phyl 91233 Rebovot 051-51338

Safed 30333 Tiberias 20111 Nabariya 923333

Risbon LeZion 942333

SUNSET-SUNRISE

Sunset 18.05; Sunrise tomorrow 05.16

Dial 100 in most parts of the country. In Tiberias dial 934444, Kiryat Shmons 40444.

ARRIVALS

໌c021-

susten-

prior notice Readers are udvised to call Ben-Gurion Airport Plight Information, 1811 911461-2-3 (or 118-299444 for Bt Al fliphts only) for changes in times of Attribu and Departures.

1340 Austrian 711 Vienna 1355 KLM 531 Amsterdam 140v El Al 386 Rome 1400 El Al 380 Rome 1405 Hapag Lloyd 859 Munich 1450 Luthanna 604 Frankfurt 1520 El Al 545 Rhodes 1540 Fl Al 322 Marseilles

1580 Hapag Lloyd 883 Munich 1800 TWA 806 San Francisco, New York, 1605 El Al 384 Vienna

1615 SAS 771 Copenhagen 1620 Air France 136 Paris 1705 TWA 846 Washington, Boston, Rotne, 1735 El Al 348 Zurich 1745 El Al Ulb New York, Landon

1755 Cyprair 302 Lemaca 1805 Swissair 332 Zurich 1840 El Al 582 Nairobi 1850 British Air 576 London 1900 TWA 848 Chicago, Paris, Rome 1910 Olympic 401 Athena 1925 El Al 358 Frankfurt 1940 El Al 334 Brussels

DEPARTURES. 0440 El Al 5015 New York 0605 TWA 547 Athens, Rome, Boston. 0630 El Al 030 Amsterdam, New York 0650 El Al 321 Marselles 0:60 Swisseir 338 Zurich 0710 TWA 849 Rome, Paris, Chicago

0740 Olympic 202 Athens 0820 El Al 347 Zhrich 0800 British Air 877 London 0900 El Al 015 Lendon, New York 0910 TWA 801 Paris, New York 1000 Et Al 257 Frankfurt

1020 El Al 328 Paris 1050 THY 825 Istanbul 1100 El Al 547 Rhodes 1140 El Al 129 Rome, Paris 1200 El Al 341 Zartoh 1415 Aerotour $501 Nice, Orly 1420 Altalia 739 Rome 1430 Sabena 292 Brussels 1440 Austrien 712 Vienne 1450 Aerotour 8508 Nice. Orly

1550 Hapag Lloyd 550 Munich 1550 Lifthanse 505 Frankfurt 1556 KLM 587 Ameterdam 1630 Et Al 641 Athens 1710 Hapag Lloyd 884 Munich 1730 8AS 773 Copenhages 1805 Air France 187 Paris 1816 El At 391 Lishon 1835 El Al S71 Bacharest

1856 Cyprair 803 Larmaca This flight information is supplied by the Bru-Gurion International Airport Coordivation Costro.

A SEAL STATE GGENCY LTD. ANGLO-SAXON

American Misrachi Wemen. Guest Tours
Tel Aviv — Tel. 220187, 245108.
Ploueer Wemen — Na'amat. Morning
tours. Call for reservations: 'Tel Aviv.

MISCELLANEOUS

What's On in Halfs, diel 646849.

Magen David Adom first aid centres are

Haifa - 101. Dan Region (Ramat Gan. Bnei Brak. Givatayim, Kiryat Ono) —

Beersheba 78829 Hadera 23333

POLICE

TRAVEL INFORMATION

FLIGHTS

This schedule is subject to change witho

0030 El Al 572 Bucharest 1005 THY 824 Istanbul 1305 Alitalia 788 Rome 1315 Sabema 201 Brussels 1320 Acrotour 8500 Orly, Nice 1330 Acrotour 8502 Orly, Nice

2055 El Al 324 Paris 2105 El Al 342 Zurich 2110 El Al 542 Athons

OFFERED FOR SALE THE EXPERTS IN HOTEL SALES.

IN ISRAEL

HAVE A FOOTHOLD

TANDON NATURAN DE LA CONTRACTOR DE LA CO

RENTAL, JEWISH QUARTER, 4, telephone. $350. Tel: 02-281268.

BEIT HAKEREM. 3½ room flat, fully furnished + phone, heating. Call Tel. 02-818419, 02-812511. TEL AVIV

INSUBANCE

FIAT 128, American specifications, 1978, 10,000 milcs. Passport. Tel. 02-523242.

for the supply and installation of

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS

Kenewal of subscription tickets continues at the IPO offices. Save time — renew by mail!

in Tel Aviv. Jerusalem and Haifa

PHILHARMONIC W

TENDER

The United Nations Disengagement Observer Force invites bids

2 Power Poles, with floodlights, including all hardware, wiring, and connecting to existing electrical installation at Camp Ziouani, Golan Heights, near Kuneitra.

Site tour for contractors: Sept. 6, at 10.30 a.m. The site tour will be led by the A/Chief Procurement Officer, UNDOF.

Advertise by Mail!

Just fill in the coupon below. Give your full home address: a P.O.B. address is not sufficient. Post this form, accompanied by a cheque, at least seven days prior to the requested date of publication. That's all there is to it!

Rates: Minimum weekday rate is IL152.00 for eight words: IL19.00 for each additional word. Minimum rate for Friday and holidays is IL215.20 for eight words, IL26.90 for each additional word. All rates include VAT.

No waiting in line! No travelling!

CUT ALONG DOTTED LINE PLEASE PRINT IN BLOCK LETTERS Classified Ads Dept., P.O.B. 81 Jerussiem

If space above is insufficient, print text on separate sheet of paper THE TEXT BELOW IS NOT INCLUDED IN THE AD The advertisement should appear on...

(deta) (day) (date) (date) IL19 00 per word (including Minimum charge (including VAT) — 8 words —1L152.00 weekdays IL215.20 Fridays

The Jerusalem Post reserves the right to refuse or postpone publication or revise the text of any advertisement and to make necessary changes without prior notification to the advertiser.

ALL ADVERTISEMENTS SHOULD BE POSTED AT LEAST SEVEN DAYS PRIOR TO THE largest and most well equipped in the city — on the grounds that the Grossberg family is opposed to sports activities there on Shabbat.

The stadium is located, like the rest of the university, a distance from any residential neighbourhood except for Neve Sheanan. Orthodox communities in Jerusalem have put up stiff - and often violent - new sports stadium in the city because of the proximity to religious

The municipality has already spent some IL30m. on construction activities at the Shuafat stadium

site, which has raised bitter objections from Agudat Yisrael members.

Prime Minister Begin has taken a personal interest in the stadium controversy, sending Deputy Minister

Yoram Aridor to negotiate between

Mayor Teddy Kollek and the Aguda

leaders. The Aridor-sponsored talks led to a 60-day morafortum on construction at the site, but aside from speculation about another site south of the city, the deadlock is seen as continuing once the moratorium is up, when the city says it plans to resume work at the north Jerusalem

A city spokesman was unavailable for comment last night.

neighbourhoods.

stance to the establishment of a

'Never on Saturday' was never HU stadium condition

By ROBERT ROSENBERG

Jerusalem Post Reporter The son of the donor of the sports stadium at the Hebrew University said in an interview Friday that his "(amily is not religious and there had been no conditions attached to the donation banning the stadium's use on Saturdays."

Erwin Grossberg, the son of the late Richard Grossberg, who nated the money for the stadium, said in an interview with the Jerusalem newspaper Kol Ha'ir that he relies on the university authorities "in all that is connected to operating the stadium — and if they have any questions about my position; they know how to contact

Press reports have consistently insintained that the Grossberg will donating the stadium specified that there be no sports activities con-ducted there on Saturdays.

But university vice-president for public relations, Eliahu Honig, said last might that the university "has never claimed that the university's objections to using the stadium were because of the family's religious ob-

He said the facilities are "made up of two factors, the observer factor observers - and the active participant section - the fields and

Honig said that the university is closed on Saturdays and that it is "not a place for 20,000 to 80,000 spectators on Sabbaths." He also said that the university supports participant sports, including regularly scheduled school sports, "It's true the stands are rarely used, he said." noting that they are only used for annual independence day activities, for example."

Kol Ha'ir is a new local Hebrew publication in Jerusalem distributed tree on Fridays.

During a recent visit to Jerusalem, Grossberg met with university officials and a witness to one of the meetings, tour guide Reuven Hecht. said that the officials first said that they were opposed to using the facility on Saturdays because of the lack of parking facilities, then said they didn't want to disturb neighbouring Neve Sheanan residents, but then "the spokesman admitted that the decision was in the hands of the

Agudat Yisrael officials have rejected plans to hold sporting events at the university's stadium - the

Coe watches Ovett make 3rd fastest mile ever

LONDON (AP). - Steve Ovett of Britain just missed setting a world record for the mile Friday night with a time of 3:49.6 — the third fastest run of all time.

Sebastian Coe, who set the world mark of 3:49.0 at Oslo six weeks ago, watched from the stands at London's Crystal Palace as his great British rival threatened to lower the mark. Ovett was inside Coe's Oslo time on each of the three laps. But on the final lap he lost ground.

Thomas Wessinghage of West Germany was second in 3:50.6 and John Robson of Britain was third in 8:53.5. Coe, kept out of Friday's Rotary Watches International meet by a muscle injury, said: "I thought my mile record was going. It was a tremendously gutsy run by Ovett."

Wessinghage had a slight lead over Ovett at the bell, but the Englishman passed him with 300 metres to go and finished five metres Besides Coe, only John Walker of New Zealand has run a faster mile.

Walker ran 3:49.4 in 1975. Ovett's run was easily the fastest ever on a British track. The old British All-Comers' record was 3:53.4, set by Kip Keino of Kenya in

The first 10 runners in Friday's race all finished under four minutes. The competition spurred Ovett to run 3.23 seconds faster than his own previous best.

Coe, who set world records for the mile, 800 and 1,500 metres, had done a lap of honour before a standing, cheering crowd at the packed stadium.

He told newsmen he probably would not race against Ovett until the Olympic Games in Moscow next summer. Then he took his seat in the stands and watched Ovett come near to breaking his record.

'Granny Billie' still strong at teen-studded U.S. Open

NEW YORK (AP). - Billie Jean King, who made her first appearance in the national championships 20 years ago, moved into the fourth round of the U.S. Open yesterday with a 6-3, 6-3 victory over Stacy Margolin.

The victory by the ninth-seeded King. 35, was a counterpoint to Thursday night's feature match, when two of women tennis' younger generation took over the stadium court. In that match, third-seeded Tracy Austin, 16, beat 14-year-old Kandrea Jaeger 6-2, 6-2.

The emergence of this new crop of teenage players has been evident in this Open. Even Ilie Nastase, the rambunctious Rumanian, has notic-

"Wherever you go in the players" lounge you step on a baby girl," he 'One is over there crying, one is over there giggling, one is over there taking a nap. They're all over the place."

King beat a member of that younger generation in Margolin, 20. She gave up a service break in the fourth game, but broke right back to start a string of six consecutive games in which she attacked effectively and dominated play at the net. She got the edge she needed in the second set with a break in the eighth game and then held service to close out the match.

King is seeking her fifth Open crown, having won the title in 1967, 1971, 1972 and 1974.

S. Africans blocked U.S. swimmers capture Tokyo golds in French visa try

VILLENEUVÉ, France (AP). -The French government will refuse visas to members of a South African rugby team planning to come to France for a series of matches with French teams this fall. Foreign Minister Jean Francois-Poncet said yesterday.

The government previously had indicated its opposition to the tour, scheduled for October, because of South Africa's apartheid policy, saying the tour was "inopportune." The French Rugby Federation, however, has refused to cancel the tour, saying it is keeping out of politics.

"For reasons of high national in terest and because of human problems posed by apartheid, the visas will be denied to South African rugby players planning to par-ticipate next October in a tournament in France," Francois-Poncet TOKYO (UPI). - The U.S. proved its supremacy by taking five of the 10 gold medals at stake on the opening day of the 1st world cup swimming championships yesterday. To the disappointment of an estimated 7,500 who watched the competition at the Tokyo olympic pool, no world records were broken. Cynthia Woodhead, 15-year-old American girl, scored one of the day's few upsets by beating world record holder Tracey Wickham of Australia in the women's 400-metre freestyle.

Woodhead led all the way. finishing about a length ahead of Wickham, who failed to catch the American with a spurt on the final lap. Woodhead clocked 4:10.53, well outside Wickham's world mark of 4:06.28. The Australian posted 4:12.70 and Canadian Wendy Quirk clocked 4:17.02 for the bronze medal.

LONDON (Reuter). - Building on a The latter half of the Indian batfirst innings lead of 103, England ended the third day's play in the final cricket test yesterday against India at 177 for three — with Geoff Boycott 83 not out.

When play resumes tomorrow England captain Boycott will hope to be able to time a declaration to allow his bowlers, given normal wear and tear of the pitch, time to dispose of the Indians for a second time and so take the series 2-0. failure in one test — at 125.

ROWERS OUT. - Yugoslav. Belgian, Israeli and Japanese competitors were eliminated from men's lightweight rowing competition Friday in repechage heats.

Indians all out for 202 as England set to win test

ting yesterday squeezed only 45 runs out of aggressive fielders and bowlers. Mike Hendrick took three for 16 in 57 balls and the irrepressible Ian Botham chipped in with two wickets - both caught behind. England's second innings was mostly Boycott, sure but unambitious. He lost new cap Alan Butcher at 43, Graham Gooch at 107 and David Gower — a rare second

But Peter Willey, recalled after three years absence from test cricket, helped in an unfinished stand of 52. Left arm spinner Bishen Bedi, who had Gower taken at the wicket, bowled 20 economical overs, finishing the day with one for one for

Baseball standings

				,
AMER	ICAN I	LE.	GUE	_
	EAS1	ľ
	W	L	PCT.	GB
Baltimore	87	45	659
Milwaukce	81	55	.596	8
Boston	78	53	.595	81/4
New York	72	59	.550	1414
Detroit	73	62	.541	1516
Cleveland	69	66	.511	19%
Toronto	43	91	321	45
	WES'	T
California	72	63	.588	_
Kansas City	71	63	.530	14
Minnesota	89	84	519	2 ~
Texas	64	71	474	8
Chicago	58	75	436	13
Seattle	57	79	.419	154
Oakland	44	92	394	2817

Toronto 5, Seattle 4, 11 innings Boston 9, Texas 8 Minnesota 3, Baltimore 1 California 9, Cleveland 8 New York 7, Kansas City 3 Oakland 5, Detroit 3

Chicago 6, Milwan

NATIONAL LEAGUE
	EAS	T
	W	L	Pct.	GB
Pittaburgh	78	54	.591	_
Montreal	72	54	.571	3
Chicago	71	60	.542	61/4
St. Louis	70	61	.534	71/4
Philadelphia	66	67	.496	121/2
New York	52	78	.400	25
WEST
Cincinnati	77	58	.570	_
Houston .	76	58	.567	14
Los Angeles	62	72	.468	1414
San Francisco	60	74	.448	161/2
San Diego	57	78	.422	20
Atlanta	53	80	.398	23

Friday's Games Montreal 8, Cincinnati 7, 10 innings Philadelphia 8, Atlanta 2, 8, innings, rain Houston 2, New York 0 St. Louis 8, San Diego 7, 15 innings Los Angeles 6, Chicago 4 Pitisburgh 6, San Francisco 4

British football

Standings in the first division of the British soccer leagues after yesterday's games.

English League Division 1 Nottingham F. Norwich Middlesbrough Crystal Palace Bristol City Arsenal Woiverhampton Coventry Stoke Ipswich Aston Villa Bolton Liverpool Everton Brighton

Esther Roth quitting, blames official apathy

Post Sports Reporter

TEL AVIV. - Esther Roth, Israel's star attitute of the past decade, said yesterday she was retiring from competitive sport because of the lack of loyalty towards her by official sports authorities. Roth, 27, would have been a certainty for Israel's Olympic track and field squad, Last mouth she returned to form with an impressive 100 metres burdles time of 18.12 seconds in Berlin, which compared to her Montreal Dynasic final time of 18.04 seconds: "I am fit and could still have improved on that time." she told the Jerusalem Post last night. Her husband and coach, Peter, met with Aharon Doron, chairman of ports Federation on Friday But it changed nothing," she said. Dogs and after the meeting that he hoped he Roths' hurt at some recent negative publicity would not stop Bather from competing. "Her love of sport and the honour of representing Intel should overcome any other change her mind," Doron said.

Doron said it was not the job of the Sports-Federation to react to critical

Tel. 415244

EXHIBITIONS CERAMICS MUSEUM — Plaiting

in Clay - Rina Peleg. Israel in its Land - From Settlement to Monarchy, finds from Institute of Archaeology Tel Aviv University, excevations. GLASS MUSEUM -Ancient Jewelry from the Museum's collection, Ennion — a first century Glassmaker. MUSEUM OF ETHNOGRAPHY AND FOLKLORE - Norwegian Stave Churches - Wooden Churches — photographs.

KABMAN NUMISMATIC

MUSEUM — Prolemaic Coin Hoard

from Tel Michal. Coins of Roman Alexandria. ISRAEL THEATRE MUSEUM, 3 Melchett St., Tel Aviv — History of World Jewish Theatre from beginnings to present time.

HISTORY OF TEL AVIV-YAFO, 27 Bishk St., Tel Aviv Years of Innocence photographs by Simon Korbman of Tel Aviv during

LABRY PLANETARIUM Demonstrations (in Hebrew) daily at: 10.00, 11.00, 12.00 Tuesdays also at 19.15.

1920-1930

EXHIBIT OF THE MONTH -Museum of Autiquities of Tel Aviv-Yafo, 10 Mifraz Shlome St. Yafo. Greek dedication inscription on a stone piliar.

EVENTS

Tue. LASKY PLANETARIUM Science Film: 20.06 Dawn of the Solar Age. Admission free.

RAMAT AVIV CENTRE Sat CERAMICS MUSEUM 5.9 Guided tour of exhibition -11.00 Plaiting in Clay, by Rina

Pring. Ceramicist. mion free. GLASS AND CERAMICS MUSEUMS Guided tours of Museums (in English)

trance of Glass Museum

Admission free.

nts meet at the en-

they think it was the duty of the Sports Federation to deny incorrect reports and furthermore charge that the chairman of the Sports Federation's track and field section inspired the offending article.

defence of the allegations against the Roths.

my running, I need peace of mind," the runner said yesterday. She did not attend the meeting with Doron on Friday, as she and her husband met with the "Moscow Committee," of which Doron is a member, two weeks ago.

> Post Sports Reporter AVIV. - Tel Aviv Maccabi

field generalship of injured Uri

Malmillian. Betar suffered an early blow, when Alon Kaplan's snappy shot in the second minute beat Yossi

Ministry of Transport

Supervisor of Road Transport Haifa District and the North

newspaper articles. The Roths say

The recent negative report referred to the Roths' behaviour in the World Cup athletics meet in Dusseldorf two years ago. Esther Roth was registered to appear for Asia, and arrived with her husband, who shared a room with her. The organizers were shocked by this, but Esther said that she and her husband were specifically instructed by Israel security authorities to remain together in her room. The Israeli sprinter claimed that the Israel of this, and should have spoken up in

"In order for me to concentrate on

Frischer, Bialostocki win junior tennis meet

By JACK LEON Post Sports Reporter

RAMAT HASHARON.- Tommy Frischer and Orly Bialostocki Friday captured the under-18 singles titles at the Israel Tennis Associations 1979 National Junior Championships here. Bialostocki also walked off with the under-16 singles crown in a rare double.

The two talented players also each had a share in the 14-to-18 doubles. Frischer winning the boys' final in partnership with Steve Rosenberg and Biatostocki the girls' event with Rakefet Binyamini. Ten Arab boys from Nazareth were among the 300 youngsters from

Upper Galilee to the Negev, competing in the week-long tournament t the Israel Tennis Centre. , In two contrasting singles finals, Frischer needed 150 minutes to edge out Shahar Perkis 3-6, 6-4, 6-4 in a gripping struggle, while Bialostocki took less than an hour to defeat Dalla Soltz 6-1, 6-1 in a rather one-sided contest. The losing semi-finalists were Steve Rosenberg and Yona Rahaminofi (boys) and Rella

Winkler and Rakefet Binyamini

Frischer and Rosenberg needed two hours to get the better of Perkis and Eylon Sinai 8-7, 8-3, 6-2. It was the end of a gruelling week of nonstop tennis for Frischer. In addition to the nationals, he took part in the current Davis Cup trials here for Israel's upcoming home tie against Monaco, winning three of his four matches - and only losing to the favoured Yair Werthelmer 6-8 in the fifth set, after leading 4-1.

Bialostocki, 151/2, who has established herself during the past year as the country's undisputed No. 1 girl player, retained her under-16 singles crown with a comfortable 6-2, 6-2 success against Binyamini. In the corresponding boys' event, Sinai defeated Avi Green 6-3, 6-4, in a

In the under-14 finals, Menashe Tsur came through 2-6, 7-6, 6-2 against Glad Bloom, while Sagit Doron was a 6-3, 6-3 victor over Ilana

Nine-year-old Dalia Corlat gained both the girls' under-10 and under-12 titles, while the winners of the corresponding boys' events were Amit Naor and Boaz Mirenstein respec-

TA Macs beat Betar in State Cup revenge

lead. In the 25th minute, Betar's revenged a 2-1 cup final defeat at the end of last season, by beating Yitzhak Jano handled and Moshe Schweitzer made it 2-0 from the Jerusalem Betar 2-0 at Bloomfield penalty spot. stadium yesterday with two first half Some 10,000 fans watched the last pre-season curtain raiser game, in which Betar badly missed the mid-

Maccabi's two goal halftime lead as well deserved as all the good football came from the coastal plainers. Kaplan appears slated to take over the schemer's role from Giora Spiegel and veteran Meir Nimni played as sweeper in place of Avi Cohen. currently a Liverpool reserve. In the second half, Betar

ed likely to hold Maccabi.

In other play, a goal by Baruch Maman in the 50th minute gave Haifa Maccabi a 1-0 win over Hapoel in the Haifa derby, for the Mayor's

Other friendly games results

Netanya Maccabi edged Herzliya Hapoel, 1-0; Beersheba Hapoel beat Tel Aviv Betar, 4-2; and Kiryat Bialik Maccabi trounced Acre

Traffic Restrictions During the Visit to Haifa of President Sadat of Egypt

During President Sadat's visit, the following restrictions and changes in traffic routes and parking in Haifa and the Northern District will be in effect, from Tuesday, September 4 till Thursday, September 6, 1979.

Tuesday, September 4 The following roads will be closed to traffic and parking from 11.00 a.m. till 3.00 p.m.:

Ha'atzmaut, Sderot Ben-Gurion, Hagefen, Herzliya, Sderot Hazionut, Sderot Hanassi. From 6.99 p.m. till midnight, Sderot Hanassi will be closed to traffic and parking, except for public

Wednesday, September 5 From 5.00 till 7.00 p.m., the following roads will be closed to traffic and parking:
Sderot Hazasai, Sderot Hazionut, Herzliya, Hanevi'im, Herzl, Arlosoroff, Geula, Ruppin, Hankin, Shalom Aleichem, Pinsker, Komoi, Adam Hacohen, Derech Dori, Bar Yehuda, Hativat Golani, Ha'atzmaut, Derech Yafo, Road No. 4 up to the Elscint junction, Allenby, Sderot Ben-Gurion,

From 6 p.m. till midnight, Sderot Hanassi will be closed to traffic, except for public transport buses.

Thursday, September 6

The following reads will be closed to traffic and parking from 10.00 a.m. till 12.30 p.m.: Sderot Hanassi, Moria, Horev, Pica, Hankin, Shalom Aleichem, Derech Dori, Heletz, Julius Simon, Itztadion, Sderot Warburg, Reines, Weizmann, Haasor junction, Derech Acco up to Kikar Masaryk. Vehicles travelling northward in the direction of Halfa, and from Halfa northward, with the exception of public transport buses, will be directed to the Kiryat Ats-Ahihud road.

Parking

Vehicles parked on closed streets will be towed away by the police.

Traffic Arrangements .

Upon the closing of the above roads, traffic will be directed toward alternative routes, and crossing of traffic lanes (closed to vehicular traffic) will also be permitted at junction points.

Vehicles travelling northward from the south and centre of the country, and vehicles travelling from the north to the centre of the country, are to move along the Wadi Milik (Zichron Yaakov-Yokne'am) roe, and to refrain from travelling through Haifa. Drivers and travellers are requested to refrain from needless trips on the above visit days, and during the hours of restricted traffic. Public transport should be used at those times wherever feasible.

Public Transport

Full particulars on public transport routes and changes in these routes, will be listed on Haifa bulletin boards and in the city's information offices. Additional traffic changes may be necessary at the time of the visit. Drivers and travellers are requested to abide by police instructions in this respect.

Yariv Kromer Controller of Transport Haifa and Northern

READ POST AND WIN A FREE WEEKEND FOR TWO

Subscribe now for a year to The Jerusalem Post, renew or extend an existing subscription for one year, and your name will be entered in a draw with six first prizes. EACH PRIZE, A WEEKEND FOR TWO (Full board) at either the Sharon, Herzliya or the Galei Kinnereth, Tiberias, both I.R.H. five-star hotels. Each prize is worth over IL5,000.

Every participant in this draw will receive a FREE copy of the new Dry Bones comic-strip book.

A year's subscription to The Jerusalem Post is 1L3,000 (incl. VAT). Remember, we'll deliver the paper to your home every day at no extra cost, and will bear any price increases that occur during the period.

The closing date for the draw is Monday, October 15, 1979 (date of postmark). Only entries submitted on the coupon below and accompanied by a cheque will be accepted. The winners will be selected at random by computer in the presence of Mr. Uzi Werner, General Manager of I.R.H. Israel Resort Hotels, Mr. Ari Rath, Editor and Managing Director of the Jerusalem Post, and a representative of the paper's accountants. No staff members of The Jerusalem Post or their immediate family may participate.

The full name and address of the six winners will be published in The Jerusalem Post on Friday. November 2. The winners can arrange their stay direct with the hotel, vacancies permitting.

Please complete the form below and send it to us with your cheque. Only entries on this form will be accepted.

To: THE JERUSALEM POB 81, Jerusalem.

I wish to have The Jerusalem Post delivered to me every day. I wish to renew/extend an existing subscription. My cheque for IL3,000 (incl. VAT) is enclosed. Please enter my name in the "WEEKEND FOR TWO" raffle.

NAME		,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,
ADDRESS	,	TEL
	for office use

īΥ matic

it k

:om

ly p

you ice :

t fle

ig ca

gent

star

An Rath

Envin Frenkel

Founded in 1932 by the late GERSHON AGRON, who was Editor until 1955 Editor 1955-74 the late TED LURIE Editor 1974-75 LEA BEN DOR EDITORIAL OFFICES AND ADMINISTRATION The Jerusalem

Romema, Jerusalem P.O.Box 81 (91000). Telephone 528181, Telex 25421 TEL AVIV 11 Rehov Carlebach, P.O.Box 20126 (51200). Telephone 294222 HAIFA 34 Rehov Herzi, Hadar Hacarmel, P.O.Box 4810 (31040) Telephona 645444 JERUSALEM BRANCH (ads. subscriptions) 6 Rehov Anstobulus, Telephone 223966 Published daily, except Saturday, in Jerusalem, Israel by The Palestine Post Ltd. Printed at The Jerusalam Post Press in Jerusalam. Registered at the G.P.O. Copyright of all material reserved, reproduction permitted only by arrangement

Too many voices

THERE CAN BE little doubt that in the past few months Israel has been subject to a well-orchestrated campaign to undermine her image and standing in U.S. public opinion.

This campaign in which the Carter administration is continuing with a vengeance what Henry Kissinger began in his "agonizing reappraisal" of U.S. policy to Israel in 1975, is intended to legitimize American pressure to force Israel to go much further than it agreed to go in the Camp David agreements.

When such pressures mount, as they have during these months, there is a natural tendency to point an accusing finger at the government's failures in hasbara — a nearly untranslatable term that describes the image building and informational activities spanning the gamut between outright propaganda and putting the best face on policies and actions. Hasbara has been a favourite whipping boy in Israel ever since the euphoria of the post Six-Day War period ended, and especially since the Yom Kippur War.

Some critics have gone so far as to imply that effective hasbara can succeed in selling any policy. This is clearly a grotesque exaggeration.

Hasbara should be a handmaiden of policy. Given Israel's dependence on the U.S. government and the great sensitivity of that government to the opinions of its people, it is, however, an essential handmaiden.

Some of the policies the government is pursuing are simply unexplainable to American — or world — public opinion. Yet barring these it is also possible to point to two major failures of Israel's hasbara efforts: too many officials and institutions, that have a direct impact on Israel's image abroad, work at cross purposes or ignore the implications of their statements and; there is a minimal, and at times non-existent, input of policy-impact assessment into the policymaking process.

Without wishing to claim that a vast improvement in hasbara could by itself drastically alter Israel's fortunes in a difficult world situation, it is still possible to point to a number of changes that could increase Israel's chances of weathering the difficult years that lie ahead.

The most urgent need is to put an end to the plethora of voices that ostensibly and confusingly speak for Israel. At the outset of the Begin government two years ago, the Prime Minister's confidant, Shmuel Katz, argued for the creation of a separate Information Ministry. He lost the battle against Foreign Minister Moshe Dayan. But the experience of the past two years seems to

Dayan, who cares little for the image-making functions of diplomacy, and admits it, seems now to have come around to understanding the need for having one voice speak for Israel abroad, even if that voice is not located in the Foreign Ministry.

Dayan's hesitant conversion should be seized as a singular opportunity. In the past, attempts to set up a separate ministry of information foundered on the feudal bureaucratic interests of the concerned ministries, and especially the Foreign Ministry. Dayan's comments to his Foreign Ministry staffers last week should perhaps be taken as a signal to reopen the fight for a unification of foreign hasbara agencies within the Prime Minister's Office.

Unconfirmed reports speak of talks being held between that office and the Foreign Ministry for greater coordination of hasbara efforts. But "coordination" is often the last refuge of the beleaguered politician or bureaucrat who refuses to choose between competing bureaucratic agencies.

it is not coordination that is needed but unification, silencing of insensible voices. The prime candidate for such silencing should be the Army spokesman's office which has been singularly obtuse regarding Israel's hasbara needs.

What is equally important is that the unifying voice be located at a level in the political system sufficiently high for it to have an impact on the policymaking process.

This means the appointment of a Minister of Information working out of the Prime Minister's Office who has the Prime Minister's confidence to a degree that would enable him to influence Mr. Begin before decisions are taken and whose voice would carry weight when it is clear that policies must be altered before they result in further havoc.

This may admittedly be theoretical. For the problem remains how to persuade Dayan, Weizman, Sharon and Burg to mention only a few of the discordant voices, to subordinate and discipline their public pronouncements to the strictures of the Prime Minister and his chief for hasbara.

Watch TV Tonight at 8

Open House —

Parents meet with

ZEVULUN HAMMER

Minister of Education and Culture

to discuss the new school year.

Potential Holocaust

"It Can't Happen in America!"

Are you really so positive?

Visit The Museum of the 31 Ussishkin Street, Jerusalem Guided Tours and Lecture at 2.30P.M. 3.30P.M., 4.30P.M. 5.30P.M.

and Sunday and Wednesday evenlags at 8.00 p.m.

York Times and

sole distributor

Steimatzky's

Washington Post

NOW ON SALE

NEW POCKET

PAPERBACKS

A FAMILY FORTUNE

morningstar

🗕 Herman Wouk

BLIND AMBITION

 John Dean FRENCH-ENGLISH

- Larousse Dictionary

sole distributor

Steimatzky's

— Jerome Weldman

ON A NIGHT in October 1937, a rope was let down from the top of the wall of the Temple Mount. A figure in Beduin attire climbed down and hurried to a car waiting on the road below and was driven away at speed.

There were no British soldiers in the area. They were all guarding the entrances to the Haram el-Sharif. With the end of the Arab general strike on October 3, the tension had relaxed and the authorities assumed that the man who had taken refuge in the Haram el-Sharif would sooner or later fall into their hands.

They were mistaken. The man was driven to Jaffa where he boarded the boat of a friend and sailed to

The fugitive was Haj Amin el-Husseini, the first and last leader of the Palestinian Arabs.

Besides bearing the chief respon-sibility for the 1936 riots, and thwarting any prospect of a peaceful settlement of the Arab-Jewish dispute, he will be remembered forever as an active supporter of the Nazis. In the history of the Palestinians he will also be remembered for being the person responsible for destroying the independent political activity of his people for generations by turning the Palestinian question into an all-Arab problem.

The reason for the absence of any independent local Palestinian Arab leadership capable of making a decision even on behalf of the Palestinians who actually live in the "territories" that are destined for autonomy is to be found 40 years ago.

THE TERRORIST campaign of 1936:37 left its effects in yet another way. Any contact with the Jews or the British was regarded as treason. And any political leader who was suspected of such contact was almost always sure to lose his life.

Those unfortunate enough to be found guilty were not immediately killed; they were usually kidnapped, taken to the hills, and thrown into caves and pits with snakes and scorpions. If anybody succeeded in getting out of such a place alive he was "court-martialled" and usually executed. The best he could hope for was a merciless flogging.

People were so terrified that even the victim's relatives were afraid to bury the their dead. Corpses with a shoe stuffed in the mouth as a sign of degradation would be left lying in the streets of villages or towns, sometimes for days.

The memory of these murders persists to this day. In case anybody succeeded in forgetting the PLO sent its bloody reminders. People who showed a readiness to enter into some kind of political dialogue with Israel were either killed or threatened with death. The latest was Haj Hashim al-Khazindar, the Imam of Gaza, who supported the peace trea-

MOSHE SHARON examines the reasons for the lack of an independent Palestinian leadership.

Searching for the non-existent

THE DEVELOPMENT of pan-Arab ideology among the Palestinian Arabs since the '30s, which in practical terms has meant turning in the direction of the Arab countries, has had two results. On the one hand, the internal divisions within the Palestinian Arab camp have increased with the growth of local patriotism and tribal and family lovalties; on the other hand, the local Palestinian political organizations and parties that once could talk in collective Palestinian terms have disappeared.

In 1948, the complete dependence on the Arab countries proved disastrous. For as a result of the total inability to act according to their own interests, the Palestinians failed to establish a state, and their reliance on the Arab countries increased even more. With the outbreak of the 1948 war, most of the actual and potential Palestinian leadership left the country. At the same time, a few Arab countries became hosts to thousands of Palestinian refugees who have since been used as a political and propaganda tool for furthering the political and military aims of those Arab countries themselves.

THE PLO has no existence in the Middle East scene as an independent political power. It is very well aware of this fact, and that is why it is so determined to consolidate its hold on its positions in Lebanon, where it is under the least direct control of its Arab brothers. In Syria and Iraq, in Egypt, and in other Arab countries. the PLO is dependent on the goodwill and money of its hosts, and its various sub-organizations serve their political and military objectives in many ways.

With the West Bank under Jordanian rule and the Gaza Strip under Egyptian rule from 1948 until 1967, the objective conditions for the growth of a local Palestinian-Arab leadership capable of organizing for any all-Palestinian political activity were, in fact, non-existent. The Jordanians and the Egyptians would nip any hint of such activity in the bud, because it signified a challenge to their rule.

Moreover, as time passed the Arab-Israeli conflict became increasingly sophisticated, both politically and militarily. The struggle against the Jews was no longer a question of sporadic forays by armed bands: it involved armies and up-to-date weapons. The more professional the war became, the less were the Palestinians in a position to act independently even if they could; consequently their dependence on the Arab countries increased still more.

THE SIX DAY WAR of 1967 and the Israeli occupation of the West Bank and Gaza emphasized the Arab inability to solve the Palestinian problem militarily. The October War of 1978, with all the damage it caused to Israel's image, further accentuated this inability.

After the Six Day War, there came. moments of introspection. Israel immediately began to speak in terms of trading "territories for peace," and the Palestinians in the West Bank and Gaza wanted to know who was going to be their next landlord. With Israel constantly stressing that its stay in the occupied area was only temporary, they were unwilling to take any political action that might be held against them after the return of Jordanian and Egyptian rule, and so they maintained their old loyalties to Jordan and Egypt.

King Hussein opened his purse and money kept on streaming into Jerusalem, the West Bank, and even Gaza. Individuals and organizations knew on which side their bread was buttered. Until 1970, no local leader wished, let alone dared, to speak in other than Jordanian or Egyptian terms. When, in September 1970, the king struck at the Palestinians in his country, it seemed for a while that his connections with the West Bank. had been severed for ever. With Jordan out of the game for the time being, the political weight of the PLO grew. It reached its peak after the

THE HEARTS of the Palestinians were filled with real national pride by the exploits of the PLO - its dead became martyrs. Its achievements on the international scene gave them the feeling that, for the first time in modern history, something genuinely Palestinian had acquired respectability among the nations of the

The rapture that seized the Palestinians when Yasser Arafat appeared in the UN Assembly is thus fully understandable. Even among the Israeli Arabs, the sense of national solidarity was strengthened; they began to find themselves, and wished to prove their steadfastness in the face of foreign rule. The "Land Day" of 1976 was the obvious manifestation of these new feelings.

Nobody really cares whether the PLO is completely independent, or whether it relies entirely on Egypt, Saudi Arabia, Syria or Iraq. Everyone knows that it is divided into many rival factions, that there is an under-current of Moslem-Christian tension in it, that its main military wing — the Saika — is a tool manipulated by the Syrians.

All these and many other facts have long been known, yet the organization is Palestinian. Its actions contain an element of Shatara bravado — for it has committed outrageous acts in many countries, and has more than once compelled great powers to accept its terms. It harasses Jews constantly, bringing death into their homes.

In the eyes of the Palestinians, the actions of the PLO combine two extremely important psychological elements: the redemption of trampied pride and blood revenge. And the PLO appears to be very dangerous to any Palestinian who may think of disobeying it.

IN A SOCIETY in which Westernstyle elections are an impossibility, the appearance of the PLO as the potential landlord should not be surprising. It does not have to be elected to represent the Palestinians, yet can one Palestinian stand up openly and challenge its authority? Nobody would dare to do so today, any more

Some advisers thought then that if Israel took the initiative, it could create a new leadership for the Palestinian Arabs in the West Bank and Gaza. A more moderate leadership, maybe of the Nashashibi type, with whom Israel would be able to come to some understanding. It was a total misinterpretation of the situation that led to the decision to hold municipal elections in the West Bank and Gaza in 1976.

The Palestinians were unanimous in regarding the PLO as their representative. Those in Israel responsible for policy in the territories had the unrealistic idea that Israel would be able to reach a political understanding with the local Palestinians over the heads of the Arab countries and the PLO. They overlooked the fact that for almost two generations, the Palestinians had not held their destiny in their own hands. They failed to see that the Palestinian problem had become an Arab problem by the choice of the Palestinians themselves.

From time to time one can hear Arab intellectuals arguing that Israel has prevented the emergence of a local Palestinian leadership. Such an argument is only an excuse: a leadership does not need cottonwool cushioning in order to develop. If there were really any potential for an independent local; all-Palestinian leadership, it would have arisen whether Israel wanted it

Palestinians lost any such initiative long ago

To anyone who looked at the local scene with open eyes, the outcome of the 1976 elections was known before they were held. Instead of a moderate independent local leadership making its appearance, PLO representatives, and sympathizers were elected as anticipated. Instead of having to deal with the relatively moderate, traditional pro-Jordanian local leaders, Israel has had to deal, since 1976, with more radical elements receiving their instructions direct from the PLO headquarters.

WHEN ONE HEARS today that Mr. Robert Strauss wants Palestinian leaders to participate in negotiations on the autonomy question, or when Israel speaks about Palestinians participating in the negotiations, there is a feeling that both are either kidding themselves or are simply reading the situation wrongly yet

Which local Palestinians are they talking about? Which local Palestinian leadership do they mean? There is no such thing as an independent leadership. It is only with reluctance that the mayors of the Arab towns of Judea, Samaria and Gaza are ready to deal even with purely municipal matters without first securing the consent of the PLO leadership. In more serious political matters, they would not dare to do anything without the permission of the PLO. And when they do act, let there be no doubt about it — they will act as its representatives.

The writing on the wall was supplied by Rashad Shawwa, the mayor of Gaza, who objected even to the direct transfer of Gazan students' examination papers from Israel to Egypt, because such an act symbolized the normalization of relations and the implementation of the Egyptian-Israeli peace treaty, to which the PLO objects.

To sum up, there is no point in looking for some "new" Palestinian leaders to take part in the negotiations. It is no good hoping for ieus ex machina. Whoever today talks about the participation of Palestinians in the negotiations means the PLO, however he disguises the fact.

This situation is in many ways of Israel's making. Instead of letting the Palestinian problem remain an internal Arab problem, as the Palestinians themselves wished it to be, Israel turned it, by offering the autonomy, into an Israeli-American problem. Instead of concentrating on the solution of the Jewish problem, Israel is embroiling itself in the Palestinian one.

The author is a lecturer on the history of Islamic peoples at the Tel Aviv and Hebrew Universities.

READERS' LETTERS

THE BAVLI QUARTER RESIDENTS

To the Editor of The Jerusalem Post

Sir, — We refer to Michal Yudelman's report of August 5, "Lahat scraps planned Betar footbali field in Bavli quarter," which defames Bavli residents. According to municipal sources quoted in this article, many people believe that snobbism is the reason for the opposition of these residents to the Betar football field.

Here are the facts: there are at present about 3,500 families living in the Bavii quarter and it is planned to increase this number to 5,250. This is a residential neighbourhood and it is the most densely populated one in Israel. In the evenings, when there is a show at the Dekel Cinema which is in the centre of the quarter, it is impossible to go out for a walk. On Saturdays, there are often four lines of cars along the Yarkon Park which borders on our neighbourhood. The emanations of the Reading Station chimney every day of the week, as well as the smell and smoke from steaks cooking in the Yarkon Park every Saturday and holiday make ecological conditions unbearable. The only thing lacking is a football

When we opposed the establishment of a Betar football field in our quarter, we had the feeling we were undertaking a lost cause. The Tel Aviv Municipality is crammed with Betar people: the Deputy Mayor, Yigal Griffel, and the Municipal Councillor, Arye Kremmer, are among the leaders of Betar. Ya acov Hadar, the Town Clerk, is the director of the Tel Aviv group which is planning the football field.

The Mayor agreed to talk to us only after we submitted an appeal signed by 500 opponents of the field. He did not give in and wanted to persuade the Bayli quarter residents to agree to the field. So we organized a meeting of neighbours. The Mayor, Shlomo Lahat, listened to us and talked to us; again he did not give in, but accepted the residents' opinion only after a vote was taken. We believe he behaved like a true every Sunday Full Board, Kosher Price $125 for overseas students Registration: Yehuda Tours Ltd. 23 Rehov Hillel, Jerusalem. Tel. 02-227740, 233147.

> TONIGHT - 9 p.m. KAHANE

The legendary founder of JDL, Meir Kahane speaks The most exciting, contraversual, different Jewish lender. The Establishment fears him. Learn why. Every Son and Thurs. nite, 9 p.m. And for a personal, private conversation democrat and carried out the wishes of his constituents. He did not behave like the Betar people, who tried to use their position in the Municipality to coerce the Bavli residents to accept their diktat. We believe that, in our fight to protect the quality of life in our quarter, we behaved in an exemplary fashion and that Mr.

All at 31 Carlabkin St., Jerusalem, Tel. 02-861994.

Incidentally, in the course of the past two or three years, about 20 per cent of Bavli's residents moved out because of the erosion of the quality of life here. There is not one snob left. Most of us are salarled workers or self-employed with modest incomes. We cannot afford to be snobs.

Lahat's response to the wishes of his constituents is a model for other

AHARON GEFEN, Actions Committee of Bavli Quarter Residents

Michal Yudelman comments: I certainly had no intention of criticizing Bavil quarter residents when I quoted municipal sources to the effect that part of the residents' objection to the football field derived from a feeling of social superiority. I also mentioned the residents' view that a football field in their vicinity would constitute an ecological hazard and a danger to their children's lives.

TOO MANY DOGS

To the Editor of The Jerusalem Post Sir. — Why isn't there a law in Israel limiting the number of dogs a tenant may keep in a cooperative house? Why should tenants be subjected to unsanitary conditions, noise and lack of rest because one tenant insists on keeping many dogs? Above me, a man lives alone with three big dogs. They are usually left alone from eight in the morning till eight at night. In addition to their barking, I also have to put up with the stench that penetrates from his bedroom windows to mine. This man also takes his dogs down for a walk at midnight and at about five in the morning, which disturbs my sleep

When six tenants complained to the municipal veterinary office, we were told that nothing could be done. since the dogs were licensed. ILKA GILL

Haifa.

BESTSELLERS FROM AVAN

THE HEARST CORPORATION

* QUASAR, QUASAR

by Isaac Asimov THE TRAIN ROBBERS by Piers Paul Read THE FORZA TRAP

NEMESIS . by Phil Davis

GILLIANE by Robert Gelfrs HAAKON by CF Griffin

Exclusive Agency: BRONFMAN'S AGENCY LTD.

INCREDIBLE INTERVIEW BY SHULAMIT ALONI

Sir. - On August 1, CBS television news in the U.S. featured an interview with Mrs. Shulamit Aloni M.K. concerning the case of the officer involved in the killing of Arabs during the Litani campaign. Mrs. Aloni, speaking in English, and therefore obviously directing her remarks to an American audience, used words such as "fanatic nationalism" and "fascist attitudes" to describe her perception of what is developing in Israel today.

Regardless of whether she is right or wrong, it is incredible that a per-son of her sophistication should wilfully do such dreadful harm to

of such ideas is exactly the nature of the Arab propaganda campaign against Israel. The association of Israel with concepts such as racism; fascism, fanatic nationalism, etc. is not what one would expect to hear from a responsible Knesset member.

Dr. BENJAMIN SLIVKO

New York.

On September 14, your number will change to a six digit number:

a 6 will be added at the beginning of your present number.

The rest of the number will remain unchanged. Example: A Tel Aviv subscriber whose number is now 53967 — will, after the change, have the number 653967.

> Those affected have been notified. The change is necessitated by development of the telephone

The changeover will affect 10,000 numbers in the Shalom Mayer Tower commercial district and environs, and includes government offices, public institutions, banks, touring and travel companies and business establishments.

Subscribers concerned are asked to put their new number on their business stationery and advertisements, and take advantage of the free calls allocated to notify those with whom they are frequently in touch.

Chief Rabbinate

The Religious Council

Jerusalem

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

At the restaurant, Mishkenot Shasnanim, which is managed by Mr. Moise Pe'er, mest was found which, beyond doubt, was taref, and which was bought from an arab butcher in the Old City.

In view of this, the restaurant's kashrui certificate has been cancelled, and the Rabbinste is not responsible for kashrui at the restaurant. The public is warned about enting forbidden feeds.

We reject with contempt the malicious published statements regarding bribery. We consider these we reject with contempt the manicious published statements regarding orders, we consider these statements a libelious attempt to cover up the truth.

The Rabbinate will continue to fulfil its function of supervising kashrut, and will issue kushrut cortificates only to those considered reliable and deserving of such certificates.

REPORT SUSPICIOUS OBJECTS!

